

Eden Tosses Spanish Blame Back at Reich, Includes Soviet, Italy

Foreign Secretary Joins Chamberlain in Plea to Maintain "Keep Cool" Attitude, Debates with Lloyd George.

STRING OF SHIPS

German, Italian Warships Strung Out Along Mediterranean—France Joins Britain in Plea.

London, June 25 (AP).—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden stepped into the Commons debate over the Spanish crisis today to declare that Soviet Russia, as well as Germany and Italy, had sent "very large" shipments of arms into Spain.

He duelled verbally with white-haired David Lloyd George, who guided British destinies in the World War.

Eden joined the present premier, Neville Chamberlain, in urging a "keep cool" attitude toward the Italian-German withdrawal from the Spanish neutrality pact.

With Chamberlain he stressed that the outlook is "not hopeless" that Italy and Germany will stay with the 25 other nations who are pledged to keep their hands out of the Spanish civil war.

Chamberlain, prime minister less than a month, outlined two steps to keep the peace of Europe as he threw open to debate the whole question of the tense crisis growing out of the 11-month-old war. He advocated:

Filling in the gap left in the neutrality pact when Germany and Italy indignantly withdrew from the isolation scheme.

Renewing efforts to withdraw foreign volunteers from Spain.

Called Failure

Both opposition leaders—Major Clement R. Attlee for labor and Sir Archibald Sinclair for the Liberals—charged that the international non-intervention committee was a failure and should be scrapped. Both urged Great Britain to take the Spanish issue before the League of Nations.

Chamberlain had called the Commons together as Great Britain and France were reported to have determined to bring the explosive situation out into the open and to ask pointed questions of Germany and Italy on the joint maneuvers of their fleets in the restricted waters of the Mediterranean.

While Chamberlain opened a Commons debate, German and Italian warships were strung along Britain's "empire life line" in the Mediterranean, near Spain's bloody shores.

The sea power of Britain and France was well represented there, too.

Anglo-French Persuasion

France and Great Britain urged Germany and Italy to approve their proposal that Anglo-French warships take over the portion of the international patrol which Germany and Italy abandoned. That portion lies on the east, or Spanish government, coast of Spain.

Secure Italian cooperation in the patrol was said in Rome to depend on Franco-British collaboration in presenting a firm front against "Bolshevism."

In Italian political quarters there were fears that some new incident might force Italy and Germany to withdraw from the European non-intervention committee as well as the patrol.

Spanish insurgents within the peninsula continued their advance on the northern Spanish civil war front. They swept government forces from the industrial region along the west bank of the Nervion river, west of insurgent-conquered Bilbao.

Divine's Chariots To Concentrate in West, Says Lawyer

Los Angeles, June 25 (AP).—Counsel for John Wuest Hunt, wealthy white-follower of Father Divine, pointed their defense today toward possible direct intervention by the Harlem Negro cult in the Mann Act case against Hunt.

Hugh MacBeth, Hunt's Negro attorney, in announcing that Father Divine might come to his aid, said last night that the cult movement would become active on the west coast.

"Father Divine will board an airplane and fly to our aid, if needed," said MacBeth. "I probably shall send for him."

"As Father Divine's legal representative in these parts," MacBeth continued, "I might say he means to concentrate on this section—from the Rocky Mountains to the ocean, and from Alaska to Mexico."

"We mean to let his religious movement take charge of politics out here."

Hunt, variously termed "John the Revelator" and "Jesus Christ," will testify next Tuesday, MacBeth said, adding:

To Lift the Lid

"And what he's going to say will lift the lid off this court building. It's going to be another earthquake. When Hunt gets through acquitting himself, Father Divine will move in."

Two of Hunt's co-defendants, Mrs. Elizabeth Peters, known in the cult as "Peaceful Martha," and Mrs. Agnes "Mary Magdalene" Gardner, were unable to agree on whether there was a great light when Hunt was standing in the Delight Tower, 17, whom he is accused of betraying, met him in Denver last December. She and Mrs. Peters decided, Mrs. Gardner testified, that Hunt must have hypnotized Miss Jewett.

Largest Award, Drawing Divided Opinion, Goes to Ezra and Marie Empt in New York Water Project.

VARIED AMOUNTS

Report on File Here is First Made Since Taking of Testimony Began.

The first separate report of Commissioners of Appraisal of Delaware Section No. 6, commission was made on Thursday and is now on file in the office of the Ulster county clerk. This is the first report made by any commission appointed to hear claims arising out of the taking of lands for the construction of the Upper Rondout and Delaware River water project and the first report of the commission embraces 13 parcels of land situated at Lackawack where the dam on the Rondout creek will be located. The total amount of the 13 awards is $53,160.00.

The largest awards made is that in the claim of Ezra and Marie Empt in which the commission is divided in its opinion as to the amount which should be paid for the land and business. The commission awards $19,550 as a just and equitable compensation but Commissioner Graham dissented from this award and held that $12,609 was a proper amount. The Empts filed a claim for $55,000. Other awards were of lesser sums.

Those on Commission

Delaware Section Commission consists of Arthur Butler Graham, chairman, of New York City, E. Frank Flanagan of Kingston, and Samuel E. Aronowitz of Albany. The commission was appointed under the New York City Water Supply Act to ascertain the value of lands taken by the City of New York for water supply purposes. Testimony has been presented to the commission since last November and the report now on file, a partial report, is the first made.

13 Parcels

The 13 parcels in which awards have been made are:

Parcel 1275, owned by Ella V. Gosselin. The commission awarded $2,500 as the just and equitable compensation for the taking. The parcel consists of .548 acres with buildings. The claim filed was in the amount of $10,000. Thomas J. Plunkett with George P. Kaufman of counsel appeared for the claimant.

Parcel 1263 owned by Catherine Barthels. The commission awarded $1,800 as the just and equitable compensation for the taking. This parcel consists of .285 acres with buildings. The claim filed was in the amount of $8,000. Thomas J. Plunkett with George P. Kaufman of counsel appeared for the claimant.

For parcel 1264 owned by Raymond Sheeley the commission awarded $2,825 as the just and equitable compensation, for the taking. This parcel consists of .750 acres with buildings. The claim filed was in the amount of $10,000. Thomas J. Plunkett with George P. Kaufman of counsel appeared for the claimant.

For parcel 1272 owned by Lucy Barthel the commission awarded $3,375 as the just and equitable compensation for the taking. This parcel consists of .352 acres with buildings. The claim filed was in the amount of $10,000. Thomas J. Plunkett with George P. Kaufman of counsel appeared for the claimant.

For parcel 1273 owned by Lucy Barthel also, the commission awarded $550 as the just and equitable compensation. This parcel consists of 8.244 acres of un-

Senators Argue Over Summoning Farley For Postal Inquiry

Senator Bridges Demands Attendance of Postmaster General to Answer Questions of Committee Members.

DEFENSE MADE

Farley Assistant Says His Chief Had Little To Do with Strike-Mail Policy.

Washington, June 25 (AP).—Members of a Senate committee investigating the steel strikes argued among themselves today whether Postmaster General Farley should be summoned to testify.

Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) said he would repeat his demand for Farley's appearance, despite indications that administration supporters would back Chairman McKellar (D., Tenn.) in insisting that Bridges first say what he wants to ask the postmaster general.

After hearing testimony yesterday on Republic Steel policy and police versions of the Memorial Day disorders in Chicago, Bridges and McKellar disagreed heatedly on future procedure.

"You're trying to run this committee," the chairman shouted at the flushed Bridges, "and I won't let you."

The argument over calling Farley arose after W. W. Howes, assistant postmaster general, said Farley had had little or nothing to do with the immediate strike-mail policy.

Chairman Tom Girdler of Republic Steel, testifying yesterday, called John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization an "irresponsible, racketeering, violent communistic body." He said he would not sign an agreement with the C. I. O. unless compelled to do so by law.

Captain James L. Mooney of the Chicago police, described the May 30 riot in which ten persons in a crowd of strike sympathizers were fatally injured, told the committee that police were forced to shoot.

"We had to do what we did and we did it," he said, "I don't care if there were people killed. If we hadn't done what we did there'd have been more."

Testimony of Mooney and affidavits of other policemen ascribed the clash to shots fired and missiles thrown by the crowd of pickets.

JUDGE WOULD HAVE VERDICT OF MURDER

New York, June 25 (AP).—The trial of George Morvan on a charge of beating his daughter is the next scheduled step in the process of exacting justice for the death of the four-year-old Joan but Judge Charles S. Golden thinks someone should be tried for killing the child.

He so indicated last night in commending the verdict convicting Mrs. Norma Gatto, 25, of beating Joan in the Jamaica home where she lived with Morvan and his daughter.

Joan died March 2. She had been cruelly beaten but testimony at Mrs. Gatto's trial developed that a criminal assault was directly responsible for her death.

Describing the verdict, which made Mrs. Gatto liable to a five-year prison term as "entirely correct," Judge Golden said he also believed "That no justice can be done in this case until some court passes on the killing of this child."

GIRL DIES OF INJURIES AND OFFICIALS ASK MURDER CASE

New York, June 25 (AP).—Mary Magione, 10, died today of injuries suffered when she was attacked in the basement of a Bronx theatre June 16.

As a result of her death, the district attorney's office said a murder indictment would be sought next week against William Ray, 26, negro porter employed at the theatre.

Ray, arrested after the girl was found stuffed in a ventilating duct under the theatre's stage, was quoted by District Attorney Samuel J. Foley as saying he had lured her into the basement and attempted to assault her, striking her on the head with a brick when she resisted.

The negro, held on a charge of felonious assault, is under observation at Bellevue Hospital.

"Unity and Harmony"

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 25 (AP).—A plea for "unity and harmony" between Young Republicans and senior leaders of the party was made here by State Chairman William S. Murray.

Murray spoke at a testimonial dinner for Alfred L. Simon of Ballston Spa, recently elected president of the New York state Association of Young Republican Clubs. He urged the younger men to be "patient" in their climb to party leadership.

Huge Standpipe of Water Board Is Near Completion

The huge steel standpipe with a capacity of one million gallons being erected for the water department of the city is rapidly nearing completion on Marius street. The sidewalks have been erected by the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works, which concern was awarded the contract by the water board.

This huge standpipe will serve as an equalizing reservoir to maintain even water pressure in all sections of the city. Its building was recommended at the time a survey of the water system was made by Sanborn & Bogert.

Standing as it does on an elevation the huge steel tank is plainly visible from the high points in the city. There is still considerable work to be done before the standpipe is placed in operation as water mains will have to be extended to the location and the tank itself will be painted.

DESMOND ESTABLISHES "INFORMATION BUREAU"

Newburgh, N. Y., June 25 (AP).—State Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Republican sponsor of one of two county government reform measures adopted by the 1937 legislature, has established an "information bureau" on the subject.

Surrounded by two research men, a clerk and private secretary, Senator Desmond has turned over his private office into a library from which he answers all sorts of questions on his bill and "streamlined" government for New York's counties.

"And," the senator said today, "anyone, anywhere may write me for information and get it."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, June 25 (AP).—The position of the treasury on June 23: Receipts, $71,607,615.17; expenditures, $75,050,465.62; balance, $2,555,545,581.38; customs receipts for the month, $22,535,370.65. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $5,192,836,572.21; expenditures, $7,967,561,267.06, (including $2,785,210,556.33 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $2,775,024,694.84. Gross debt, $36,388,284,782.13, a decrease of $3,047,922.14 under the previous day. Gold assets, $12,270,152,542.39, including $1,038,796,342.40 of inactive gold.

Hotel Crisis in France

Paris, June 25 (AP).—French hotel operators warned the government today all hotels in France might be forced to close if the new 40-hour work week was strictly applied. The first indication of united opposition came after the government published decrees in the official journal extending the reduced work week to employees of cafes, restaurants and hotels effective June 28.

Supervised Play In City Parks to Start on Monday

Monday marks the opening of the season of supervised play in the city's playgrounds. That date has been fixed by Superintendent Sidney Lutzin of the department of recreation. Mr. Lutzin has arranged plans for a very busy season in the playgrounds, and a much more extensive program of activities will be taken up this summer than ever before in the history of supervised play in the city. This year there will be an additional playground in the group as the Board of Education has granted permission to the recreation department to use the grounds in the rear of the Kingston high school for playground purposes for the children living in the vicinity of the school. Edward Ford will be the supervisor in charge of that playground.

The other playgrounds and the supervisors who have been assigned to have charge of playground activities during the summer are:

Hanbrouck Park, Lester Finle, and Miss Dorothy Stewart.

Block Park, Donald Moore and Miss Helen Ross.

Cornell Park, Frank Ostrander and Miss Cecile Thompson.

Barmann Park, William Reardon and Miss Althea Schaefer.

Loughran Park, Robert Dolan and Miss Florence Kuehn.

Must License Dogs

There are still about 50 dogs owned in the city which have not been licensed, and the owners to avoid being summoned to city court in the city hall should obtain the necessary licenses at once.

Ordered To Stand Ground

Owens sent word along the scattered picket lines ordering strikers to hold their ground and refuse to return. Non-striking employees straggled through several gates of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. plants to reconstruction equipment.

In Columbus, Ohio, Adjutant General Emil Marx said national guard observers informed him 2,000 men had entered the Sheet and Tube plants. There are three here.

Roy Leventry, Youngstown district manager for Republic Steel, said "I suppose we will be going pretty good by 5 p. m."

In Canton, Judge George N. Graham of common pleas court, granted an injunction restraining both non-striking and strikers from carrying weapons and prohibiting interference with ingress and egress at Republic plants.

Two hundred national guardsmen in Canton were ready to help enforce the injunction as soon as they received a call from civil authorities. A pocket-limiting injunction granted in Warren is being enforced by the military.

May Open Under Protection

Youngstown, Ohio, June 25.—The steel mills of the Mahoning valley, strike-locked for 30 days, were to be opened today by Gov. Davey today they could reopen immediately under the full protection of the National Guard.

Men who want to work shall "enjoy that privilege"; those who wish to continue to strike "are entitled to do so." That was what the governor, in a late night order to the adjutant general, said. The governor acted immediately after President Roosevelt's three-man mediation board at Cleveland

Studies Scrap Heaps

Rome, June 25 (AP).—Premier Benito Mussolini turned from Italian park fountains to Austrian scrap heaps today in his campaign for more iron and steel for Italy's armaments.

The Italian cabinet approved a decree providing duty free importation from Austria of 2,755,000 tons of scrap iron, pig iron and iron bars.

INSULT POSSESSIONS SOLD AT AUCTION TODAY

Chicago, June 25 (AP).—The last of Samuel Insull's furnishings for which he reputedly paid $650,000 were knocked down to the highest bidder today.

A sweltering crowd of more than 300 persons jammed the former utilities magnate's pretentious penthouse apartment atop the Civic Opera building on the opening day of the auction. The sale was to satisfy creditors' claims.

A meat chopper brought $4. Three garbage cans—listed as refuse containers—went to one buyer for $1.50.

Seventy-five cents was enough to buy one possession of the one time multi-millionaire. It was an ash tray. Its inscription: "To Samuel Insull from His Friends."

Holumzer Wins $121.76 Award

Aurel S. Holumzer of Zena was awarded a verdict of $121.76 with interest in an action which he brought in County Court against Edward White, also of Zena, to recover a balance due on a painting and papering job which plaintiff completed for defendant in January, 1936.

Plaintiff claimed he and another workman had agreed to do the work at the White home for the sum of 35 cents an hour for their work and Mr. White was to supply the materials. The labor, which took three weeks, three days and three hours for two men totalled $119.70 and the materials, which Mr. Holumzer bought at Horzog's and charged up to Mr. White in his bill amounted to $2.06. He claimed a payment of $50 had been made but demands for the balance failed to produce results so he sued.

Mr. White contended that he had entered into a contract with plaintiff to do the work for the flat sum of $75.

Holumzer testified he had stated an hourly prize for wages for certain rooms in the house and that later White asked him to do over more rooms, a total of 10 rooms and several halls, closets and smaller places were painted and papered.

Roger H. Loughran appeared for the plaintiff and Joseph H. Forman for the defendant. After the jury brought in its verdict for plaintiff for the amount sued for Judge Traver excused the jurors until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when additional civil cases will come up for disposition.

ROCHESTER SEEKS KILLER OF 13-YEAR-OLD BOY TODAY

Rochester, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Rochester police began today an intensive man-hunt for the torch-slayer of 13-year-old Joseph E. McConkey, Jr., son of a World War veteran.

Captain Anthony Andrews announced that the crime was still a mystery after the release of two ex-convicts with a record of sex crimes. Andrews said both established alibis.

The youth's body was found, bruised and badly burned, in a desolate woodlot late yesterday by two playmates.

One leg was almost completely destroyed and the other badly seared, Andrews said, adding that the "maniac" apparently had used a blow torch in an effort to destroy "the traces of his crime."

One possible motive for the crime exploded, Andrews said, when Coroner Richard A. Leonardo reported that an autopsy disclosed that the boy had not been criminally assaulted.

BRITAIN'S PROFITS TAX

Perhaps the way to make a tax popular is to set up an obviously bad scheme and then quickly follow it with one not quite so bad. The second one then seems pretty good. That is about what happened in Great Britain when the new profits tax was put forward after the failure of acceptance of the gross profits tax first proposed. A speaker in the House of Commons declared: "The tax is frightful, but the Chancellor is to be congratulated on producing proposals which are straightforward, honest and—as far as possible in any form of taxation—free of complications."

It is complained that the profits tax will put a penalty on vigor and enterprise, that it will fall chiefly on the ordinary shareholder, that it will hit the co-operative companies as they have never been hit before, and so on. But the praise is more abundant than the criticism.

"The new tax," says the London Times, "is in some degree a voluntary levy, for it has been devised by the taxpayers themselves (it was partly the product of pressure from a united House of Commons) to yield far more than the Chancellor of the Exchequer proposed to obtain by compulsion. That is a fine feather in the cap of democratic institutions." It all sounds very British. Americans don't get so enthusiastic about any tax.

SMALL DIRIGIBLE

Now that the Graf Zeppelin, world's most successful giant dirigible, has been retired, there is no great airship of that type plying the skyways. Germany plans to build others. This country is weighing the problem of building others. It is possible that Russia may get ahead of them with a passenger airship of her own. Soviet engineers plan a semi-rigid ship only one-eighth the size of the burned Hindenburg. It will be inflated with helium gas obtained from natural wells in the central districts of the U. S. S. R.

This airship will have a volume of 880,000 cubic feet, and will contain a salon, buffet and smoking room, and sleeping accommodations for 16 persons. This is obviously not such a luxurious ship as the Graf and the Hindenburg, and probably will not travel with anything like their speed. Yet it may be more safely operated than our own lost ships, the Akron and Macon, and should cost much less. It is an experiment worth making, at any rate, considering all that has happened to the far larger and more pretentious dirigibles.

FOREST FIRE FIGHTING

The national forest service this year is starting an extensive campaign against fires. There is to be a study of all the national forests, with special reference to their fire-control methods and apparatus and the particular fire problems of the regions in which they lie.

Since one of the worst forest fire hazards is man himself, the greater accessibility of national and state forests has increased the fire danger. The more people drive through forests and camp in them, the more possibility there is for careless persons to drop matches or glowing cigaret stubs or to leave a campfire burning unwatched.

But there are also greater aids to forest fire fighting. Airplanes and radio facilitate the discovery of fires and the call for help. There is new power apparatus for more efficient work.

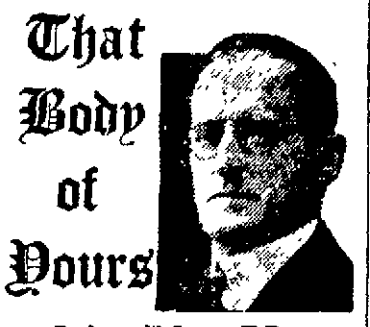

Along with all this must go educational work, teaching everyone who goes into the forest his responsibility toward it. Fires started by lightning or sparks from railroad engines are only a small part of the yearly total. If the human menace were stopped, the forest fire problem would be controllable.

FREEDOM AFFIRMED

Typically American is the reaffirmation of civil and religious freedom by 50,000 clergymen representing Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches in several thousand American communities. The statement was circulated by the National Conference of Jews and Christians. It met with an enthusiastic reception in every part of the country and among all classes of people.

This is especially impressive at a time, when as is said by Newton D. Baker, general chairman of the conference: "In various parts of the world strife between religious groups is being fomented, and misunderstanding, discrimination and persecution are being deliberately promoted on political grounds." Our own country, as he observes, cannot entirely escape the influence of insidious foreign propaganda. But so far, our traditional spirit of liberty and fair play has suffered less contamination than might have been expected.

EARLY TUBERCULOSIS

A young adult in the home may catch a cold and begin to cough a little. The cold and cough seem to "hang on," he seems tired all the time, doesn't feel much like eating, and loses weight. The family physician is consulted, gets a little suspicious about the lungs, has an X-ray examination, and informs the family that it is an early case of tuberculosis and that a few months in a sanatorium is advisable.

You can readily understand the feeling of parents, brothers and sisters; their son or brother is to be hurried off to a sanatorium, perhaps at some distance, to be among strangers, to sleep on a "strange" bed and eat "strange" food. They point out quite sensibly (logically in fact) that he can't be happy away from home; he will be upset and his appetite and sleep will be poor. They believe therefore that he would improve more rapidly at home where his mind would be at rest, he would sleep on his own bed (outside if necessary), and he would get the most nourishing food cooked in the way he liked it.

There are, no doubt, some cases where these points or arguments would suit the particular cases, but there is no question but that the vast majority of cases of early tuberculosis do better in a sanatorium. Of course all medium or advanced cases should be in a sanatorium.

However, so persistent have been some parents and relatives in pointing out the "advantages" of treating cases at home that the French Academy of Medicine appointed a Commission of Inquiry "composed of the highest authorities" to investigate this point. The conclusions drawn were unanimous in finding that sanatorium treatment not only is efficacious but has no near competitor (the home or any other place). The sanatorium is a centre from which the patient can benefit from all the modern and highly technical methods of treatment that are of course absolutely impossible at home.

And nowhere in medicine has there been such an advance in "cure" methods as in the treatment of tuberculosis. The thought then is that for the sake of the health, the life in fact, of a loved one we should send him to the sanatorium if attacked by tuberculosis. I've said nothing, of course, of the grave danger to others, particularly children, of having a tuberculosis patient in the home.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Saving a desperate young man (Ted Gaylor) from setting a forest fire to get a job, Kay, a young girl, finds a place for the Lazy Nine; she knows he is decent. When her ranch house and barn burn down, Ted Hastings, owner of the Flying Nine, who wants to buy the Lazy Nine and marry Kay, invites her there. She refuses, disliking him, but young sister Babs and Aunt Kate gladly accept. Banker Don Steele dashes Kay's hopes of rebuilding—the insurance money has to go toward the mortgage. Ted, waiting outside the bank, hears two punchers slurring Kay and follows them.

Chapter Nine
Fighting It Out

PUSHING in the bright red doors of Kelly's so-called "soft drink parlor," Ted entered a large square room that had all the earmarks of an old time bar room, from brass rail to sawdust on the floor.

Several groups of men were seated at the square pine tables, and at the far end of the bar leaned the two punchers Ted had followed. They were still chugging their beer and talking loudly. Ted's eyes were drawn to a man in a suit, who was standing behind the bar, polishing a glass and waiting for them to give an intelligible order.

His blood boiling at the certainty that Kay was the subject of their coarse hilarity, Ted stepped up to them and preemptorily tapped the shoulder of the man who had done the whispering.

"I'm giving you notice to cut out the mention of the young lady's name in this or any other public place," Ted's voice had a drawing intensity that made no effort to veil the threat beneath his words.

The man swung around, surprise and anger lighting up his mean gray face. They were set close on either side of a thin nose that was disfigured by a badly set break in the bone.

"You don't say!" His eyes traveled significantly to Ted's belt, with its empty holster. "And just what's goin' to stop me?" He fingered his own gun and laughed disagreeably. "Reckon you need a lesson!"

"Cut that out, Scrap!" Mike Kelly's voice matched the bulldog expression that wiped the grin, and proclaimed him a man who was master of his own domain.

"No pulling on an unarmed man in my joint," he declared. "You can get outside if there's going to be any of that kind of play."

Mike Sees To Fair Play
THE man addressed as Scrap took his hand away from his gun with another sneering laugh, as his eye measured Ted's emaciated figure and drawn face, which still held the lines of his recent privations and despairing defeat against overwhelming odds. Then he insolently turned his head away from Ted, and addressed his companion again:

"Looks like the little red-headed filly had picked herself up a kind of a scrawny new champion from somewhere."

No sooner were the words out than Ted's fist crashed under Scrap's jaw with a force that snapped his head back and made him stagger away from the bar.

The next instant he recovered himself, and with a roar of rage reached for his gun. But Mike Kelly had been too quick for him. Foreseeing the inevitable outcome, he had snatched Scrap's gun from his holster in that moment of inaction when Scrap had staggered back from Ted's surprise attack.

"I'm keeping this for you," Mike Kelly announced. "Go ahead and fight it out man to man if you've got to."

"Are you ready to swear off from mentioning that young lady's name, or do you want some more?" Ted faced his panting opponent whose rage for the moment had been damped by Mike Kelly's words.

"Like hell I am!" he roared, making a lunge.

Ted deftly side-stepped and came back with a left that carried as vicious a wallop as his right hand. Before Scrap had time to recover, Ted closed in with an uppercut. The next instant they were locked in a rigid hold.

As the sweating fighters rocked back and forth, the quickly gathered crowd watched with breathless interest and offered advice.

Ted tore his right free and hammered away at close quarters. Gradually he felt Scrap's knees begin to give. He knew the moment had come. Breaking away with one mighty jerk, Ted stepped back, spotted a corner on Scrap's chin and let loose. He connected.

Scrap crashed to the floor with a guttural croak. Ted heard the crowd cheer as he knelt beside the writhing Scrap and gripped his right wrist. With a slow, relentless twist, he threatened to wrench the arm from its socket.

"Are you ready to leave that young lady's name alone?" Scrap gritted his teeth, then yelped with pain and rage as Ted put on pressure. "Yes, damn you! Let me go!"

Ted dropped the arm and stepped swiftly back as his victim tried to struggle to his feet, sank back in an exhausted stupor.

"Don't forget!" Ted warned. "If it ever happens again, I won't stop short of broken neck! Get me?"

With a nod and a "Thanks for the fair play," to Mike Kelly, Ted turned and strode out. To his relief, Kay was nowhere in sight, and the horses were waiting as he had left them.

Panting from his exertions, but with a wild sense of elation coursing through him, Ted mounted his horse again and watched the bank door for Kay's reappearance.

"Re's A Snake"
HER eyes half blinded with tears of rage and disappointment, Kay stumbled out of the bank and ran over to where Ted was waiting with the horses.

She was absorbed in her own troubles and hardly glanced at Ted, so failed to notice his new look of power and restored confidence that the fight with Scrap had given him.

BARSON on BUSINESS

More Inflation Means Inevitable
 Babson Discusses Relief And Social Security

Babson Park, Mass., June 25—Strikes, Congress, and Europe have knocked confidence galley-west. They are only temporary factors, however, and will not hearken industry indefinitely. Good crops this summer should pull business out of its current slump by autumn. As a matter of fact, these current disturbances are like a smoke-screen. They are obscuring our real problem—the constant trend toward inflation.

Today, though inflation is not making headlines, it is making headway. With stock prices drifting listlessly and business slipping downward, people unconsciously think more about deflation than inflation. This is the mistake made in every inflationary period. It is the biggest reason why inflation is so hard to control. If all were sure that inflation was coming, they would stop it. Like a deadly disease, it makes its greatest progress in the incubation stages before the symptoms appear. There might have been no printing-press money in Europe if the majority of their people had been keen enough to recognize the trend during the critical "hatching" period. We must profit from Europe's experience.

New Kind Of Insurance

Like everybody else, I have let inflation slip from mind during the last few weeks. Two recent Administration reports, however, have snapped me back to reality. The first was an address of Harry Hopkins, head of the WPA, which was read at the Babson Institute Commencement.

Mr. Hopkins presented a serious doctrine. He said that cutting out the WPA "will save business a few pennies in taxes but for every penny saved from Uncle Sam it will have to pay ten dollars to future depression."

The present government apparently feels that the WPA is a necessary evil. It wants business to consider the resultant increase in taxes as an insurance premium paid to delay the next depression.

Back in 1933 everyone honestly believed that our relief program was only an emergency measure. No one dreamed that such a vast handout would ever become a permanent policy, that millions would live on the public treasury forever! Federal authorities see little hope of getting rid of many welfare wards unless output jumps 20 per cent above the 1929 peak. Their contention is that not only has our population grown but fewer workers are needed because of labor-saving machinery. The decrease in machinery since 1929, however, has been offset by the shorter work-week. Moreover, our population growth has produced only five per cent more workers than we had eight years ago.

What Permanent Relief Means

Hence, if output runs five per cent above the 1929 level, everyone should theoretically be back on private work. Industrial activity is nearly up to its old peak, but relief rolls show only slight losses. Moreover, there will be no drastic drop while the present easy policies are pursued. So long as governors and mayors swarm on Washington, we mad men will never see a cut in announced, no economies can be made. Millions who never did work very hard will remain, public charges if WPA is to be a permanent policy. The cost of their care will be about $2,000,000,000 per year. I see little hope of balancing our budget while this huge expense continues. As all history shows, there is only one outcome of reckless national spending: This is Inflation.

The second startling announcement from Washington was an obscure report that the Treasury would not have to borrow new money to pay its bills this year "because it could use Social Security taxes now pouring in." I believe in the basic principle of Social Security. I do feel, however, that the terms of the present legislation are absurd. I have long been afraid that the temptation to use the Social Security funds for the ordinary day-to-day expenses of the government would be too great for the Treasury to overcome. The recent notice from Washington confirms these fears.

Violating A Trust

Social Security money is in the nature of a trust and Washington is supposed to invest this money in government bonds so that when the time comes to pay out there will be a sufficient income to take care of all those who have contributed. Appropriating the receipts, as they come in, for running expenses and issuing bonds against them is a dangerous policy, ethically the violation of a trust. The Old Age Reserve Fund is expected to reach a maximum of over $45,000,000 within 40 years. It must be invested solely in government bonds. Our federal debt today, although the highest in history is only $36,000,000,000. Hence, this encourages spending by Congress in order to create enough debt so that it can borrow all the Social Security fund and pay interest on it.

If we are to continue with the present law, the Reserve Fund provisions should be amended as follows: (1) The Social Security Board should be forced to acquire its governmental bonds by buying them in the open market. (2) The Social Security Board should be allowed to buy high-grade municipal and possibly choice corporate issues. I do not think that United States government bonds are necessarily the soundest security in the world. They could suffer just as German and French bonds have suffered. The Old Age Reserve Fund should be diversified just as any soundly managed trust fund.

The entire Social Security program, however, should be changed immediately. Congress should put it on a mutual, or pay-as-you-go basis. If so, the government could begin now to take care of all people who qualify. Each year the country would know exactly what its old age assistance and its unemployment aid is costing. Assessments would then be made on business, as the losses are assessed on the policyholders of a mutual insurance company. This would eliminate the gigantic reserve fund and all its complications. But if the present set-up continues, I do not see how ultimate inflation can be avoided.

Willy Nilly, who has been spending several weeks with Mr. Richard Demarest, returned to Pittsburgh, Pa., on Saturday.

Mrs. Phoebe Brown, who has been keeping house for the Dewey family, has left and Mrs. Fred Terwilliger has taken her place.

Man About Manhattan

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—One of the better known younger novelists was telling a luncheon club how the editor of a magazine, by wielding the blue-pencil, had abused his brain effort. The story, when it appeared, was so raggedly edited that it was impossible to read. "What I would like to do," he concluded bitterly, "is punch his jaw."

Just then a quiet-spoken fellow stood up and nodded agreeably. "Any time you say, old man." The editor, it seems, had wandered into the club just in time to hear the blast.

There used to be a marionette in a Broadway shop-window that captivated everybody who saw it. I haven't seen it in nearly a year. The doll drew pictures of well-known celebrities, and if you stood there long enough it was apt to sketch your own likeness.

The way it worked? An artist concealed beneath the window had a perfect view of the crowd through a trick mirror. That is, he could see you but you couldn't see him. All he did was make sketches on a pad, and a mechanical device, transmitted through a pencil in the doll's hand, reproduced the sketches on a large sheet in the window.

THE huge drills and trip-hammers which disturb the night over on the east side are leaving a fine lot of insomniacs in the apartment houses along that sector. They're working on a tunnel and might give them an opportunity to make rapid advances. Visitors say nothing of headaches. Visitors and guests find it almost impossible to slumber, but the long-time residents say you get used to it after awhile. "Why let it get on your nerves?" they say. "There is just as much noise in the day time. Only you aren't conscious of it."

An actor playing a bit in one of the summer dramas has to change clothes three times during the play. The other night his dinner jacket practically gave out and the manager advised him to get a new one. Not being in the chips, he hot-footed it over to one of the loan offices and pawned his watch for a few bucks. He found one for $5, but when the manager glimpsed it he shook his head savagely and yelled, "Well, I'll lend you one, but you can't wear that thing." The jacket, it is said, was named was of the 1890 variety. 'S truth.

IT IS impossible to tell a man in this town by the clothes he wears. One of the wealthiest of all novelists wears baggy pants, seldom shaves, and goes around in mud-splattered shoes run-over at the heel. Then, just the other day I dropped into a Federal court where a narcotic ring was on trial. The defendants wore fashionably cut clothes of imported tweed.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

New Paltz, June 24.—Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin have rented the house of Cyrus DuBois on North Chestnut street.

About 50 members of the society of the Descendants of New Paltz Patentees, took part in the annual pilgrimage in town on Saturday, June 19. A short business meeting was held after which the party made a tour of the old stone houses in the village. The members of this society are descended from the patentee families who founded the village nearly 250 years ago. The party on Saturday met on Huguenot street and enjoyed a picnic lunch on the lawn of the old houses which were built by the pioneers and still used as dwellings and these were open to the visitors for the day. Co-operation was given the group which sponsored the pilgrimage by the New Paltz Huguenot and Historical Society which maintains the 225-year-old Jean Hasbrouck house as a historical museum. Many from here attended the annual banquet of the Ulster county branch of the Huguenot Society of New York, held in the Stuyvesant Hotel in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Domingo spent the week-end at their summer home in Plutarch.

Mrs. Agnes Elliott entertained her brother, Leslie Ackhart, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Miner have gone to Spruce Point Inn.

Booth Bay Harbor, Maine, for the summer. Mrs. Miner is the daughter of Mrs. Alexander Poucher.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin were dinner guests at Snug Harbor on Sunday.

Harold Smith entertained Mrs. Helen Bigness and Stanley Smith of Gouverneur over the week-end. Stephen Johnston has rented his house on North Chestnut street to Jesse Haynes.

The New Paltz Future Farmers enjoyed a picnic at Williams Lake on Friday, June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. DuBois of Bradenton, Fla., are spending part of their vacation in town with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Ellings and daughter, Bernice, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., formerly of New Paltz, are enjoying a trip to California.

Miss Evelyn Roosa has returned to her home in Stone Ridge.

Busy Priest Heads State Machinery To Settle Strikes

Buffalo, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—A busy priest who already has engineered settlement of many strikes held No. 1 spot today in New York state's new machinery for smoothing labor disputes.

The Rev. Father John P. Boland, appointed by Governor Lehman to chairmanship of a state labor board recently created under New York's "Little Wagner Act," has been chairman of the federal government's regional labor board since April, 1934.

Ordained in Rome at 23 as one of the youngest Catholic clerics of all time, Father Boland now is 49.

The priest already has relinquished his pastorate of two Buffalo parishes in order to go to Albany, but he retained his directorship of the Buffalo diocese Catholic Action movement, nine Catholic hospitals and a judgeship in the diocese marriage court.

The most Rev. Bishop John A. Duffy of western New York accepted the parish resignation "with sincere regret," and assured Father Boland that he would be reassigned a pastorate if he gives up the labor mediation work in the future.

"Father Boland has made this sacrifice as an act of public duty," Bishop Duffy said.

A resident of Buffalo most of his life, the new labor board head was educated in a local parochial school, St. Joseph's Apostolic School at Watertown, N. Y., and St. Bonaventure College.

His appointment to the office had been predicted here following a conference last Friday in Albany with Governor Lehman.

Recently Father Boland has been a central figure in the settlement of a city garbage collectors' walkout, a sit-down plant, and the C. I. O. strike at the Republic Steel Corporation's Buffalo mills.

He is expected to finish his work as regional labor board chairman early next week and go to Albany immediately.

There he will inaugurate and direct the new state agency's work. He will continue to live in Buffalo, at St. Patrick's Monastery, however.

Father Boland studied six years in Rome, at Urban College, an international missionary school. He was given a degree of philosophy in 1937, a degree in canon law in 1939, and a degree in theology in 1941.

Health Supreme Court
 Bad Wildbad, Germany (AP)—Minister of Interior Wilhelm Frick has foreshadowed establishment of a kind of Supreme Court of Health to pass on doubtful cases of a citizen's fitness to practice. "Il-conceived" Christian charity, he said, had been permitted deliberately to thwart the natural process of elimination of the unfit. The minister asserted that many foreign states were following Germany's example in efforts to improve their stock by control and legislation.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

The GARDEN COLUMN

by
James H. Burdett
Director Nat'l Garden Bureau

Now's Time to Sow Biennials

Some gardeners are inclined to ignore biennials, the plants which must be started fresh from seed every year to keep them in stock, as they bloom their second year and then die.

Poxgloves and Canterbury bells are the commonest biennials and two of the most beautiful subjects. While frequently grown together, they like soils of entirely different character to be at their best.

The Canterbury bell favors a lime soil while the foxglove luxuriates in acid quarters, being naturally a woodland plant. It is best to start these two biennials now to have big plants to store in cold frames for the winter, the only really safe way of doing winter-killing in many sections, being unable to stand winter wet although perfectly hardy so far as cold is concerned.

To prepare a seed bed select a location sheltered from the full force of both wind and sun if possible. Spade up the soil thoroughly and see that the top soil is pulverized as fine as in a seed box. Use a sieve if necessary. A good one can be made by covering a frame with screen window wire.

If the soil is heavy lighten it by mixing in torpedo sand. Heavy soil which crusts easily is a poor medium in which to sow seeds. It should be easily firmed over the seeds, to enable the tiny roots to penetrate downward without resistance, while the sprouts emerge to the surface without struggling with a hard crust or heavy clouds. Plant food may be applied not exceeding 1 pint to a bushel of soil.

If there is no sheltered spot available for the seed bed to protect from the full sun and the sweep of wind, it will pay to erect a shelter fence on the side from which the prevailing winds come, far enough away not to cast a shadow. By erecting posts at the corners of the seed bed, 2 or 3 feet high, you can lay on the posts a canopy of cheesecloth which will keep off the heavy rains.

As protection from the sun, a lath screen is excellent. It may be kept on the post above the seed bed throughout the hot summer day, and will provide sufficient shade to lower the temperature of the beds several degrees. This is especially important to late sown seed.

When seeds are sown in the summer it is good practice to cover the seed bed with a piece of burlap to keep the bed moist until the seeds germinate. In sowing, take care not to sow too thickly. Fine seed may be mixed with sand to sow them more evenly in the row, using 2 or 3 times as much sand as there is seed. Large seed may be placed individually to avoid crowding plants.

Seedlings must be transplanted as soon as they have reached 2 or 3 inches in height and in mid-summer the nursery row to which they are moved should be slightly shaded in a location where water may be supplied when needed. Many of the annual flowers which are wanted in the garden can be moved there directly from the seed bed.

A seed bed can be kept busily throughout most of the garden year. As soon as spring sown annuals have been moved, perennial flowers can be sown. It is possible to grow many perennials from seed sown in the fall and the seed bed is the best place to do fall sowing, since it may easily be covered with a protecting mulch after the ground has been thoroughly frozen.

Some gardeners know that when vegetables are carried from the garden to the kitchen they have tenderness and flavor which sets them apart from market vegetables.

The reason for this is being developed by experiments. Vegetables are marketed with much less attention and care than is given to meats. Seemingly they do not deteriorate as rapidly as meat and so they are not kept in refrigerators to keep them fresh.

Experiments have proved, however, that after they are picked rapid changes take place if they are subjected to high temperatures. In the case of sweetcorn loss of sugar is doubled with each rise of 18 degrees in temperature. The sugar begins to change to starch immediately the ear is picked, and at 86 degrees its disappearance is twice as rapid as at 68 degrees.

Market growers are beginning to discuss the possibility of freezing vegetables immediately after they are picked to preserve their flavor and tenderness. The home gardener has no such problem. He has learned that the best place to keep vegetables is in the garden until he is ready to eat them; and then they should be harvested with as little delay as possible before they are served.

If necessary the place to store them is in the refrigerator.

There's Limit to Coronations
London (AP)—Coronation banners linger here and sea-dog George Arthur Stacey couldn't stand it any longer. A St. Albans magistrate sentenced him to 12 months for tearing down coronation banners and breaking into a shop when he pleaded guilty. "I was fed up with seeing nothing but God Save the King and Coronation about," he explained.

side on fruit trees and does double duty as a contact insecticide to kill scale insects and in dilute form to kill red spider in the summer.

Contact insecticides are usually prepared from nicotine, pyrethrum, rotenone or a soluble oil which will make an emulsion with water chiefly against scale insects and red spider. Nicotine is a deadly effective against aphids (plant lice).

The latest contact materials in sprays and dusts are merely new forms of old materials which kill insects, while doing no harm to animals. They are the powdered leaves of a wild species of pyrethrum and rotenone, the extract of derris root which savages use to kill fish. Both substances are offered in various dusts and sprays under trade names. Rotenone has the advantage of being a stomach poison as well as a contact poison.

Arsenic is the base of most insecticides used to kill insects which eat leaf tissues. As arsenic of lead it remains on the leaves after spraying for the longest time. For dusting in the garden calcium arsenate is preferred by many. Paris green is used in some cases, though much less than in former years.

Arsenic must always be applied with caution, and whenever it is applied to portions of a plant which are subsequently eaten it should be thoroughly washed away. Rotenone, which is harmless to animals, and both a contact and stomach poison for insects, may be used as a substitute for arsenic. Follow instructions carefully.

Donations Swell Surplus
Rome (AP)—Italy's fiscal year will close June 30 with a surplus of just over $50,000,000, due to profits from gold given the country by public-spirited subjects and to revaluation of gold reserves when the lira was devalued. The surplus, according to Secretary of the Treasury Tamm of Revel, will be used for "burdens of an exceptional nature." Well-informed circles say these "burdens" fall in Italy's rearmament program designed to keep proportional step with Britain.

Food, Cake Sale
Loyal Workers' Sunday school class will hold a food and cake sale in Epworth parlors on Saturday, June 26, at 1 p. m. The public is asked to attend.

Social Security Regulation No. 1

The Social Security Board today issued Regulation No. 1, which embodies its off-stated policy that all information in its files pertaining to employees covered by the Social Security Act shall be kept confidential and used only for administration of social security legislation. John Form, manager of the Field Office at Kingston, stated that the full text of the regulation is as follows:

"Disclosure of official records and information.

"It being found by the Social Security Board (hereinafter referred to as the board) that the public interest and the efficient administration of the functions with which the board is charged under the Social Security Act requires that the confidential nature of all wage records and other records or information in possession of the board, pertaining to any person, be preserved.

"Now, therefore, pursuant to authority contained in Section 1102 of the Social Security Act the board hereby adopts and promulgates the following regulation:

"(1) No member, officer, or employee of the board, except as authorized by this regulation or otherwise expressly authorized by the board, shall produce or disclose to any person or before any tribunal, directly or indirectly, whether in response to a subpoena or otherwise, any record (including any file, letter, application, claim, return, report, or other paper or document) or any information, acquired therefrom or otherwise officially acquired, pertaining to any person.

"(2) Any request, or demand for any such record or information, disclosure of which is forbidden by this regulation, shall be declined upon the authority of this regulation. If any member, officer, or employee of the board is sought to be required, by subpoena or other compulsory process, to produce such record or such information, he shall respectfully decline to present such record or divulge such information, basing his refusal upon this regulation.

"(3) Disclosure of such records or information is hereby authorized, in such manner as the board may by instructions prescribe, in the following cases:

"(a) To any claimant or prospective claimant for benefits under Title II of the Social Security Act, or his duly authorized representative, as to matters directly concerning such claimant or prospective claimant;

"(b) To any officer or employee of the Treasury Department of the United States lawfully charged with the administration of Title VIII or Title IX of the Social Security Act, for the purpose of such administration only;

"(c) To any official, body or commission lawfully charged with the administration of any State Unemployment Compensation Law or tax levied in connection therewith, for the purpose of such administration only.

"(4) Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude the disclosure by the board, or any member, officer or employee thereof, of any such record or information in any formal proceeding under the Social Security Act; nor shall anything herein be construed to prohibit the publication of statistical data or other information not relating to any particular person; nor shall this regulation apply to personal information relating to employees of the board.

"(5) As used in this regulation, the term 'person' includes an individual, a trust or estate, a partnership, or a corporation, the term 'corporate body' includes associations, joint-stock companies, and insurance companies; the term 'State' includes Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

Mr. Form explained that it being found by the Social Security Board that the public interest and the efficient administration of the functions with which the board is charged under the Social Security Act require that the confidential nature of all wage records and other records or information in possession of the board pertaining to any person be preserved.

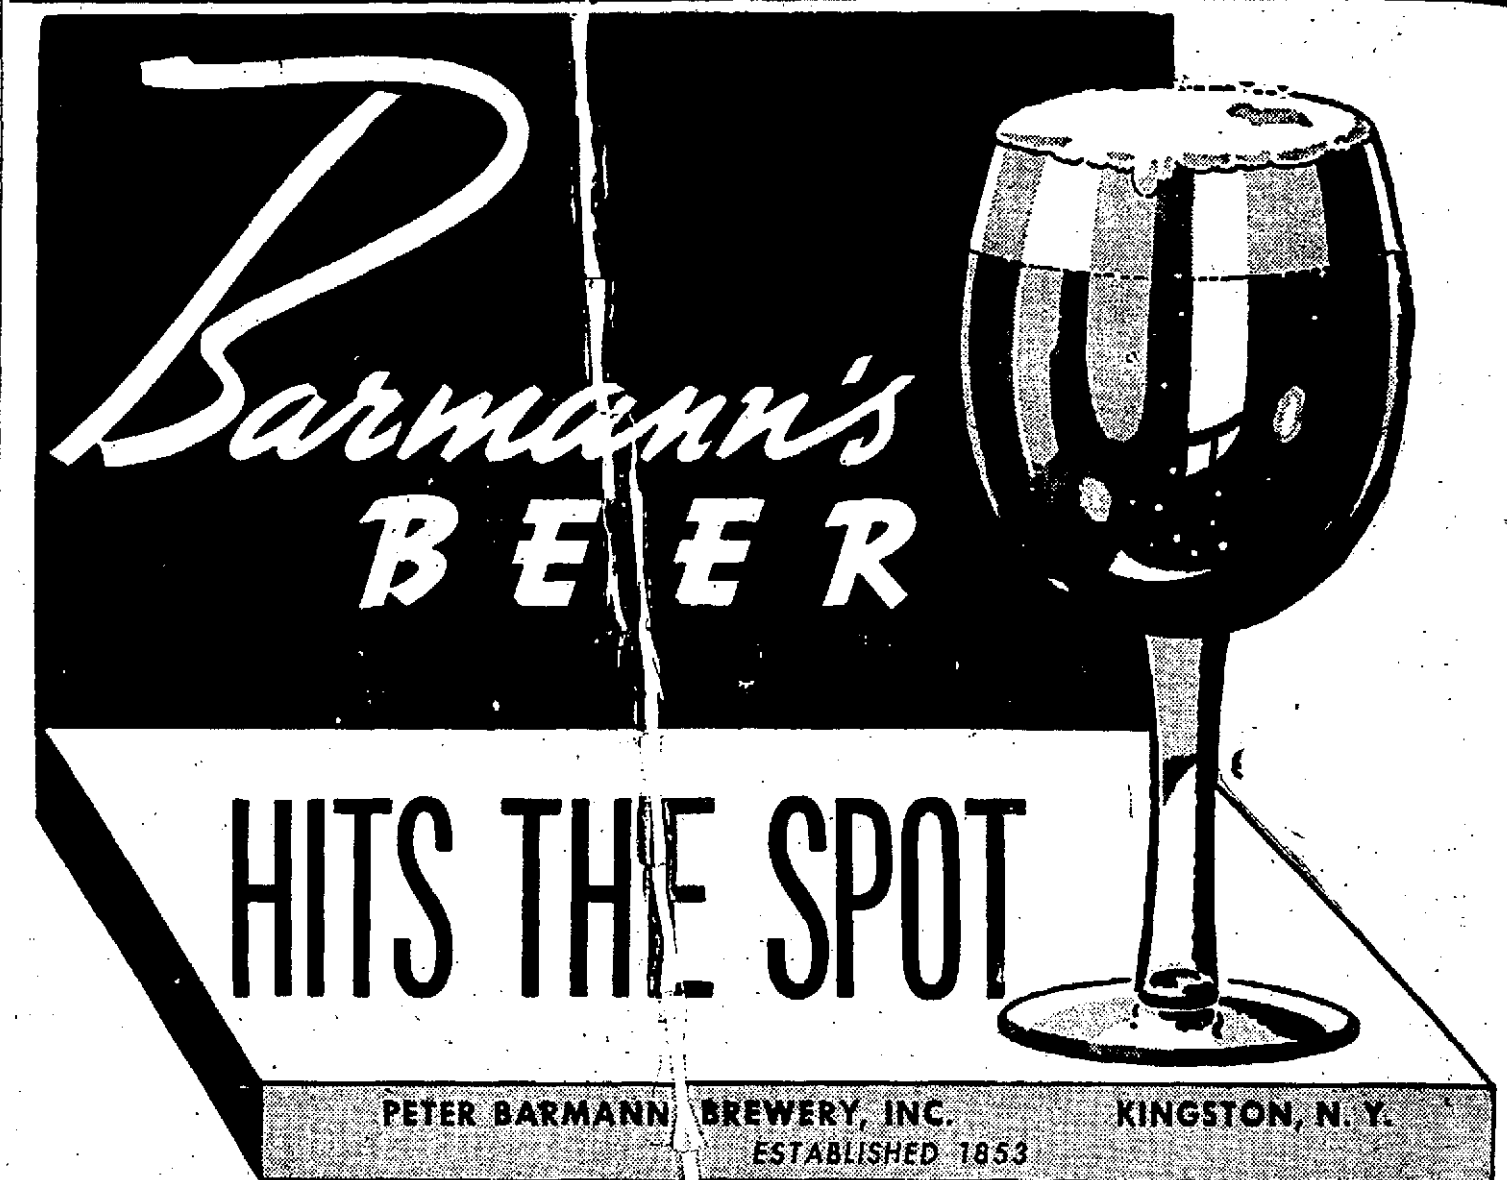

possession of the board pertaining to any person be preserved.

Girl Scouts ULSTER COUNTY COUNCIL

Camp To Open July 3

Everything will be in readiness on July 3 when Camp Wendy, Ulster county Girl Scout camp, opens on the Borden estate at Walkkill.

Miss Lillian Parrish, who has been the director for two previous years, is holding a pre-counselors training course for the 20 counselors the week before camp opens, and when the Scouts and Brownies arrive all will be ready to start off with a well-worked-out program.

The lake has been drained so that the vegetation in the bottom might be burned, and not cause trouble later in the lake. Only counselors who have passed their Red Cross Life Saving examination will be in charge of the swimming. The lake is now filling with fresh water, and will be in splendid shape when camp opens. The first day in camp each girl is given an examination to see whether or not she can swim. If she meets the requirements she is sent to the big dock, if not she stays in the crib until she can swim sufficiently well to be passed on to deeper water. There is a new bridge built across the dam this year so that the girls may get to the west side of the lake where the new water front unit is to be when they do not want to take a boat across.

The new unit will spend most of its time in or on the water and only good swimmers will be allowed to be in this unit. The second week of the two weeks encampment will include a canoe trip on the Walkkill with two nights of overnight camping. "Bushie", the cook, is returning and if she could make good cake in the old stove she will beat the record this summer with a fine new large range which has been installed. "Nana", the nurse, is coming back. She has been nursing on an Indian reservation this past year so she will have great tales to tell the campers. Dr. Beattie, of Walkkill, will be the camp physician when one is needed.

Ellen Harvey, of New Paltz, who has spent many summers at Wendy as a camper and counselor, is returning after an absence of three years. Dorothy McConnell of Ellenville is to be with the Pioneer unit as its leader. Registrations of both old and new campers are coming in every day, and it looks as if this would be a banner year for Camp Wendy.

Divine's Angels Coming on July 8

It is expected that when Father Divine with his Angels sail up the Hudson river from New York city to spend a brief vacation at the latest Heaven, Greenkill Park, that the two steamers on which the members of the club will make the trip will berth at the Stone dock in the Rondout creek.

According to the police department there will be no parade and the followers of the negro leader will be routed out of Kingston by the easiest and quickest way possible. It is likely that they will leave the steamers on Ferry street and proceed up Broadway and out Abel street to the city line.

It is expected that buses and private cars will meet the two steamers to convey the followers to Greenkill Park, where the day will be spent in various sports and listening to an address from the negro leader.

"Sesqui" Business Meeting in Fall

Woodstock, June 25—Though the sesquicentennial celebration is now over, there remain a number of business items still to be carried to conclusion. For this reason it was voted at the recent meeting of the Central Committee to adjourn until fall, when final action on all these matters can be taken.

The unfinished business includes such important items as the distribution and disposal of the remaining souvenir booklets and the creation of two important pictorial records, which will be in the form of albums to be preserved in the library. One of these, in charge of Bruno Zimm, will carry photographs on all the important quills in the Woodstock Gallery and at the Shady Hall. Konrad Cramer is offering generous cooperation in furnishing the prints. The other album will record the day-by-day events as produced by the several communities and will be made up by Mrs. Carl Eric Lindin.

Other minor matters include the disposition of arrows used by the Indians, the costumes worn by the musicians, the stage sets, and also the settlement of the few small bills which were late in coming in.

There is also the important matter of the memorial stone, sent from Bismarck castle by Woodstock, England. The stone has now reached America and passed through the customs. Arrangements must be made for its shipment to Woodstock and its reception and placement when it arrives.

Children's Day

Next Sunday, June 27, is Children's Day at the Methodist Church of Phoenixia. At the morning service at 11 o'clock the pastor will take as a sermon subject "There is a Lad Here," and the sacrament of Baptism will be administered. In the evening at 8 o'clock the children of the church school will be responsible for a varied and interesting program.

In the great international city which the New York World's Fair of 1939 will be, those who attend will find shops of all kinds, from department stores to little photograph booths, rug stores and specialty shops, barber establishments and beauty parlors.

STONE RIDGE

Stone-Ridge

Stone Ridge, June 25—A very pretty wedding took place at the Stone Ridge M. E. Church on Wednesday at 3 p. m., when Miss Edna Mae Miller became the bride of George Wagner Stoehr, of Philadelphia. The bride was attired in white embroidered marquiset over white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and ferns. The bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Strubel, was matron of honor, and wore light blue organdy with red roses and carried red roses to match the roses in her dress, with baby's breath and ferns. The groom was attended by the bride's brother-in-law, Frank Strubel. The bride was given away by her uncle, Austin Edwards, of New Brunswick, N. J. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frederick G. Baker, pastor of the Stone Ridge M. E. Church, of which the bride is a member. A buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride after the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Cleveland, O., the bride and groom will reside at Philadelphia, where the groom is employed.

Arthur Brundage, of Walden, a former teacher at "Our School" at Stone Ridge started his summer vacation off by a return call upon the scene of his previous pedagogical activities. Mr. Brundage has been teaching at the Rectory School at Pomfret, Conn., the last year and will resume his duties there in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Neal, and son, James, Jr., of Hollis, L. I., have returned for the summer to the cottage of Mr. Van Demark. The many friends of Ezra Beatty are pleased to hear that he is much improved from his recent illness.

Mrs. Matthew Hasbrouck entertained over the week-end Mrs. Eva Hansl, radio script writer, recently of the New York Times.

The tea party given at the home of Mrs. E. C. Chabourne on Saturday last for the benefit of the Stone Ridge Library was well attended, and much enjoyed by all present. Tea was poured by Mrs. C. C. Hardenberg, Mrs. Sturges and Miss Sarah Lounsberry, while Betty Hasbrouck, Doris Pine, Evelyn Roosa, Mrs. Roy Weber and Janet Service served.

Forty members of the Garden Club, of Monticello, had luncheon on Wednesday at the "Shop in the Garden" and enjoyed the beauty of the garden of Miss Katherine Hasbrouck.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Frag, and son, Julius, of Woodmere, L. I., and the Misses Evelyn and Gertrude Hale, of Brooklyn, are vacationing with August Bergeman.

Max Bogen, who attended school in New York, is spending his summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Israel Bogen.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Garrison gave a dinner party on Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weber, who were recently married. The table was set for 10, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest DuBoise, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hasbrouck, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weber and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Garrison.

The Rev. Harold Hoffman and Dr. James Cantine attended the picnic and regular monthly meeting of the Clergy Club held at High Falls on Monday. In the afternoon several games of dart baseball were enjoyed in the firemen's hall. The cabinet of the Rondout Valley Sunday School Association elected the Rev. Harold Hoffman as dean of the Sunday school teachers' conference.

The Misses Della and Helen Clark, accompanied by Mrs. Howard Coddington and Mrs. Charles Sherman, are enjoying a motor trip to Niagara Falls.

Dr. and Mrs. George R. Mills of Callicoon, who are celebrating their eighth wedding anniversary by a motor trip to Saratoga Springs, where they will attend a doctor's convention, were guests at the M. E. Parsonage on Tuesday.

Services at the M. E. Church on Sunday will be as follows: Church school at 10:30 a. m., under leadership of Oscar Wood. 11:30 o'clock the pastor, the Rev. Frederick Baker, will bring a message on the topic, "Divine and Human Co-partnership."

Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks were dinner guests on Wednesday evening of Mr. Weeks' father, Abram Weeks, at Ashokan.

Sunday school at the Reformed Church will convene at 10 a. m. with L. D. Sahler in charge. The pastor, the Rev. Harold Hoffman, will bring the message of the morning at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Oscar Larsen entertained on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Oswald Jacobson and Mrs. Ralph Sahler in honor of her birthday.

The Misses Julia and Josephine Hasbrouck attended prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at the Atwood Church.

The many friends of Miss Charlotte Becker, a former resident of this place, regret to hear she has undergone an operation for appendicitis at the Vassar Hospital at Poughkeepsie. All hope for a speedy recovery.

The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Salverson and son, Warren, Mrs. M. Holberg and Mrs. Daniel Froyland were guests of Mrs. Anna Nilsson on Wednesday afternoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Baker are entertaining Mrs. E. E. Aldridge of Callicoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Edwards and family of New Brunswick, N. J., have been guests for a few days of Mr. Edwards' sister, Mrs. Violet Miller.

Larsen Brothers have taken three truck loads of fine young stock to the farm of the late Chester Schoonmaker for summer pasture.

Miss Ruth VanDemark has returned home after spending the school year in Kingston with her aunt, Mrs. Ramona Nodal.

Strawberry Festival

The young people of the Ponack Congregational Church will hold a strawberry festival this evening on the parsonage lawn starting at 8:30 o'clock.

The beginning of wisdom is to see that nothing is so simple as it looks.

PAINT your home with paint that lasts!

Labor is the largest cost in painting your house, and the labor is the same for good, durable paint as for "cheap" paint that will not last so long. So why sacrifice this investment in labor by using "cheap" paint?

We recommend Murphy Exterior Paints. Being paints of the finest quality, they will protect and beautify your house for the longest time. They also have large covering capacity—fewer gallons needed. They are fresh—stir easily and spread freely. And they are true to color.

Stop in and ask us how and why.

PARKERS AWAIT VERDICT—"GUILTY"

Maverick Players In Smash Hit in Opening Drama

Thursday evening, before a delighted audience of several hundred persons, the Maverick Players rang up the curtain on a successful season, for on the opening night and in the opening play the troupe displayed a confidence and a sparkle which is the result of four years of "taking it" come what may. Now there is a tempo in the productions, and a definite level of showmanship, and the actors reflect that fact. Therefore, the lid is off.

"The Bishop Misbehaves," starring Frank Rothe, Betty MacDonald and Don McHenry, with capable support from Edward Brooks, James Roberts, Darthea Volz, Frances Bayer, Robin Batcheller, Robert F. Smith and Jerry Holman, gave a Maverick "first-nighter" audience more than its money's worth. It gave them humor and entertainment, to fulfill the contract for the evening, and threw in a promise for the weeks to come of dividends of pleasure and satisfaction.

"The Bishop Misbehaves" is a mystery-comedy in which a high Anglican prelate with a flare for Philo Vance and crime, and a whole-hearted belief in right over wrong, untangles the misguided sort into a "stick-up" of a young couple intent upon love and marriage and the proper sums to sustain them. In this role Frank Rothe is perfect. He is bland, assured and gives perhaps one of the best performances ever witnessed on Maverick boards.

There is no definite criticism of the other players. Early season nervousness and some inexperience counted ever so slightly against the younger members, but not so as to spoil anything. The show is on and it is good. You'll see more good shows at the Maverick Theatre this summer, but make no mistake—you'll see none better, nor will you have a better time.

The curtain will ring up tonight at 9, and every night through Sunday. Robert Elwyn is the producer-manager and he'll also take care of reservations, which, before the summer is over, will be as necessary on Maverick lane as on Broadway.

The cast follows:
Red Eagan.....Edward Brooks
Donald Meadows.....James Roberts
Hester Grantham.....Darthea Volz
Mrs. Waller.....Frances Bayer
Guy Waller.....Robin Batcheller
The Bishop of Broadminster.....Frank Rothe

Lady Emily Lyons.....Betty MacDonald
Collins.....Robert F. Smith
Frenchy.....Jerry Holman
Mr. Brook.....Donald McHenry

BIGGER AND BETTER PRISONS

Georgia will open a $1,300,000 prison plant on July 1, first step in a reorganization plan for the state penal system. Many chain gangs will be done away with. Rep. E. L. Almond (above), house penitentiary committee head, is shown inspecting the DeKalb county prison camp.

Spodick Back From Convention

Manager Frank Spodick has just returned from Boston where he represented the Ulster Provisioners' Cooperative Association, sponsors of the U. P. A. Stores at the 40th Annual Convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers.

Mr. Spodick reports that nearly 10,000 persons in the food industry attended from all parts of the United States and Canada. All previous attendance records were broken.

While in Boston, Manager Spodick organized a committee composed of leading representatives of the largest food industries in the country, which will formulate plans for entertaining those attending the 36th Annual Convention of the New York State Food Merchants Association to be held in Kingston from August 1 to 5.

About 1,000 delegates, their wives, and friends are expected to be in Kingston that week.

The preliminary meeting of this committee will be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania on Thursday, July 1. Martin Schleede, convention committee chairman, Harry Jump, of Port Ewen, and Manager Spodick will represent the Kingston association at this meeting.

Enrollment in both urban and rural elementary schools of America is declining.

Beehler Admitted To Illinois and U.S. District Practice

Vernon D. Beehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Beehler of 359 Albany avenue, Kingston, who was graduated from John Marshall Law School in Chicago with the degree of LL. B. last June, was admitted this term to practice before the bar of the state of Illinois and the Federal District Court. Mr. Beehler is specializing in the law relating to patents, trademarks and copyrights and has his office at 105 West Adams street, Chicago, Ill., where he is associated with Axel A. Hofgren, patent attorney.

In 1922 Mr. Beehler was graduated from Kingston High School after which he attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, graduating from there with the degree of Civil Engineer in 1926. For some years Mr. Beehler followed the profession of engineering in several of his branches, having been engaged first in construction work in the Republic of Colombia, South America and later in development work for a manufacturing concern in Chicago. With this broad ground work in practical engineering he is well prepared for the profession of patent law in which he is now engaged.

Premature Kirkville, Mo.—If George White goes back into the fireworks business he'll insist that customers go somewhere else to sample their purchases. One of his patrons lit a bunch of firecrackers right at the counter of his roadside stand. The stock and stand went up in a glorious display of premature Fourth of July. Firemen couldn't do much about it. Zooming sky rockets and roman candles kept them at a respectful distance.

No More Yawns Charlotte, N. C.—Mrs. Jesse C. Hinshaw's strange yawning malady appeared a thing of the past today after a tonsil operation. Physicians said Mrs. Hinshaw, who estimated she had yawned nearly 413 hours during four attacks of continuous yawning since May 18, had not yawned since a tonsilotomy Wednesday.

Normal Will Use "New Pupils" Plan

New Paltz, June 25—Aiming to widen the scope of the activities of Freshmen Week, when school opens September 14 to 18, an orientation period for entering Normal school pupils will be held the first week of the first semester the committee in charge has devised a more extensive plan of operation than that which has been used previously. Shirley Mack Compton is head of the program.

An important feature of the enlarged plan is that it includes a greater number of upper classmen acting as big brothers and sisters. From each organization, sororities, fraternities and S. W. O. Y. The committee has asked for approximately 25 members to act as big sisters and brothers. In September on the first day of school there will be posted on the bulletin board in the main hall a list of Freshmen and opposite each the name of the upperclassman who is to be that Freshman's guardian for the week. Each upperclassman, who has been chosen as big brother or sister, will look up the Freshman for whom he has been made responsible and escort him to the activities of the week.

As has been the custom in previous years, there will be a number of people from this group of big brothers and sisters chosen to do double duty in corresponding with one or two Freshmen during the summer. Each group is headed by a captain. These captains are: Katherine Bell, Florence McKeever, Cora Lund, Betty Leonard, Virginia Babcock, Robert Stewart, Charles Helmes, Jennie Scoma and Ruth Schulman.

The events of the annual Freshman week for September 1937, are scheduled as follows: Tuesday, September 14—Kodak S. D. S. Treasure Hunt; Wednesday, September 15—Interscholarship Cabaret Men's Smoker; Thursday, September 16—Faculty Picnic; Friday, September 17—Matinee at New Paltz theatre for the Freshmen; Friday evening—Freshmen Frolic, sponsored by the Juniors; Saturday, September 18—Mohonk Trip, sponsored by the Seniors; Second week of school, September 20-22—Sorority open-house. During Freshman week the Freshmen are to wear green ribbons so that they may be more easily distinguish from the general student body.

Kiwanis Finds Out Who Loves Nation

"There are too many loyal 'verbal patriots' in every nation, and America is no exception," declared Frank Mason, principal of the Saugerties High School before the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon, when he spoke on "Who Loves America?"

The speaker was introduced by Principal Clarence Dumm, local high school head, who spoke of Mr. Mason as "one who speaks right from the shoulder and hits hard." Prior to the introduction, Mr. Dumm introduced members of the high school baseball team, DUSO champions, who were guests for the day.

Principal Mason remarked at the opening of his talk that he expected to antagonize many of his listeners and cause strong disagreement among others, and his words proved true.

Before classifying those "who did not love America," he defined patriotism as the "setting up of certain ideals and objectives of devotion." He distinguished the true patriot as one who loves, is loyal, has sentiment and affection for the constitution and laws of this land. "There are too many 'verbal patriots' in America," he declared, and this species of individual he classified as "Those who sing America's praises, but act and think to betray her—they sell out the nation they claim to love."

Attacking the problem of those "who love America," Mr. Mason listed those "who think they do but don't," as follows:

Law violators. Those who get traffic tickets fixed and generally evade laws they do not like. "In a democratic country the people make the laws, and if the laws are not right they may be changed by the people. But the people should not violate the laws they themselves made, for in doing so they betray their own government. They don't love America."

Tax evaders. Those who avoid income and other taxes and sell out the nation, whose laws they helped to make. "They don't love America."

BAPTIST C. E. HOLDS OUTING AT MAPLE ARCH HOMESTEAD

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Helen Bates and Mrs. Charles Brandt the Christian Endeavor Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church held an outing at the Maple Arch Homestead in Old Hurley on Wednesday evening with approximately 18 members attending.

Before enjoying their refreshments, the group participated in various sport contests, consisting of tennis, golf and swimming. In the swimming meets, which were planned by the committee of Doris Harvey, Helen Bates and Edith Jacob, Helen Bates defeated Helen Robinson and Harold Canfield in the first 50 yard dash contest by the timing of 42 seconds. In the 100 yard dash Bert Streeter and Harold Canfield came in that order with the former registering the time of 83 seconds while the latter had 87 seconds to his credit. In the girls' 100 yard dash meet Betty Heaps bested Erma Tigar and Doris Harvey and Edith Jacob by finishing in 36 seconds while the last two were tied in 90 seconds.

After departing from the water sport the entire group assembled near the tennis court where a few contests were played. In the initial match Helen Bates eked out a win over Helen Robinson while Edith Jacob took the match against Ed Safford. In the third game Harold Canfield and Alice Hunter combined to annex a victory over Dorothy Schick and Charles Gumaer in the doubles set. Finally Midge Longendyke came in victorious in her match with Ernie Longyear.

In the final sport of the outing the group went to the golf course where some interesting and skillful games were played. Executing brilliant timing Betty Heaps went over the nine hole course in 24 strokes. Although she came in second, Helen Robinson had 35 strokes. In the second engagement, Doris Harvey applied the greens to a win over Edith Jacob in 27 strokes while Miss Jacob traveled it in 31. Next came the boys' special in which Irwin Thomas took first place with 23 and his nearest rival scored a 28. Third and fourth places were annexed by Harold Canfield and Ed Safford with 30 and 31 respectively. In the girls' division Helen Bates topped first with 24 out-punting Erma Tigar, who had 27, and Vivian Green, who had 28. Fourth and fifth spots were taken by Ruth Koony with 32 and Betty Heaps with 33.

After the golf contests all of the members enjoyed refreshments on the lawn at the Homestead.

Those who attended were Helen Bates, Edith Jacob, Doris Harvey, Alice Hunter, Helen Robinson, Midge Longendyke, Vivian Green, Betty Heaps, Dorothy Schick, Ruth Koony, Erma Tigar, Francis Skeritt, Charles Gumaer, Ed Safford, Ernie Longyear, Bert Streeter, Harold Canfield, and Irwin Thomas.

vantage. — The individual who supports a party or politician in the hope of getting a job or remuneration. "They don't love America."

Partnership. Those who rebel at social and religious equality. "They don't love America."

Those who take tainted money. The individual who benefits financially from the efforts of someone else, the latter not receiving his proper share of the earnings. Those who get rich at the expense of another man's sweat. "They don't love America."

Free speech and thought. Those who won't let the other man be heard on his ideas. "They don't love America."

Lawless strikers and employers. Those who take things in their own hands under the guise of some great principle, when both groups are working toward the same end—profit and the expense of the other fellow. "They don't love America."

Those who cry "shame" when someone fails to salute the flag, when they themselves are violating other laws. "They don't love America."

Non-voters. Those who cry about the policies of government and fail to exercise their own franchise. "They don't love America."

Mr. Mason closed his remarks by saying that all should obey the constitution and laws of the land, good or bad, and if the laws of the land are in some cases bad, the franchise should be exercised to change them. "Let us be among those who will love America," he ended.

The meeting was in charge of Vice-president Paul Zucca in the absence of President William Byrne, who is attending the international convention of Kiwanis.

The funeral of Simon L. Newland, who died suddenly at his home, 105 Pearl street, on Thursday morning, will be held from the late home on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Newland, who was widely and favorably known in this city, where he was a lifelong resident, was a graduate of old Ulster Academy a half century ago. Following his graduation he entered the employ of the federal postoffice department and was assigned to duty in the money order department of the post office when it was located on East Strand. Later he became associated with Austin, Nichols Company, wholesale grocers of New York, which position he held until the day of his death. Fraternally Mr. Newland was a past master of Roundout Lodge, No. 313, F. & A. M., Mt. Horeb Chapter, and a charter member of Kingston Chapter, No. 155, Order of the Eastern Star. He was also a former assistant grand lecturer of the Greene-Ulster Masonic District.

Morris Honored by United Travelers

Kingston Council No. 356 of the Order of United Commercial Travelers of America, has been honored by the election of Edward S. Morris of 284 Washington avenue, owner of the Drake Remedy Company, to the position of Supreme Sentinel of the organization which covers the entire United States and Canada.

This information was gleaned from a telegram received by William Dutton, local representative of the National Drug company of Philadelphia, who pointed out that the appointment of Mr. Morris to this position paves the way for his ascension to the leadership of the national group in a few years. The local council boasts 211 members of which Edward S. Morris is one of the most active, and it was at the national convention held at Columbus, O., that the Kingston man was elected to the office.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACQUES

New York, June 25 (AP)—The stock market took the downhill path today after making early gestures toward extending a previous climb.

Losses ranged up to about 3 points for the most active shares in the fourth hour, with steel and copper shares in the forefront of a slow retreat as traders accepted profits at the week-end.

The decline seemed to have originated more in lack of buying interest than in any extensive shift to the selling side. Trading continued at a snail's pace, with transfers at the rate of about $50,000 shares for the day.

Conspicuous among the losers were American Telephone, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Anaconda, Kennecott, National Dairy, Woolworth, International Nickel, General Electric, Douglas Aircraft and Borg Warner.

Retaining modest gains from the opening phase were Allis Chalmers, Consolidated Edison, Texas Corp. and International Harvester.

A spurt of more than 3 points in National Supply, without apparent reason in the news, put it in the limelight for a while.

Grains and cotton resumed a rally from the recent decline as commodities attracted renewed buying. Bonds staged in a narrow range. The French franc and British pound also held to a restricted path.

On Way to Castle
Vienna, June 25 (AP)—Gay in straw hats, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor left Vienna today, presumably for their honeymoon in the mountains.

Industrials and Rails Advanced

Although utilities continued to show a slight decline, industrial stocks and rails showed an advance yesterday in the New York market as Governor Earl of Pennsylvania issued an order discontinuing martial law in Johnstown at 7 o'clock this morning, permitting the reopening of Bethlehem's Cambria plant at that place. Leading world markets also showed a more cheerful tone yesterday.

Total stock transactions yesterday were 550,000 shares. Industrials gained 1.07 points on the Dow-Jones average; rails were up 0.10 points; utilities dropped 0.08 point. Bonds were steady. Commodities averaged higher.

A Washington report says that there are high Administration officials who are now convinced that John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization have "overplayed their hand"; that the general public's reaction to CIO tactics is unfavorable and that there is possibility that not only the cause of organized labor, but the "New Deal" itself may suffer damage.

American Power & Light reported net of $3,335,442, or 31 cents a common share in May 31 quarter vs. net of $2,605,344, or six cents a common share a year ago. In the same quarter Electric Power & Light showed gain from $1,388,786 to $2,561,300. United Gas reported net of $3,225,308, or 11 cents a common share, compared with $2,614,306, or three cents a share a year ago.

American Gas & Electric reports net of $12,504,447, or $3.31 a common share in previous year.

Engineering construction awards this week of $115,530,000 were the highest since March 19, 1931.

Wright Aeronautical received Army contract for 531 Cyclone engine and spare parts, totaling $5,316,310—largest peace-time order for engines ever awarded by the Army or Navy.

Retail sales new passenger autos in May are reported at about four per cent higher than a year ago.

Reports for May from 18 railroads show that gross operating revenue is up 10.2 per cent, but there is a decrease of 10.7 in net operating income.

Pennsylvania's May surplus is estimated at around $1,100,000, vs. about $2,000,000 a year ago.

Erie's May net is expected to be $225,000 compared with $94,599 in 1936 month.

Warren Pipe & Foundry declared an extra dividend of 50 cents on common; Lee Tire & Rubber voted 75 cents vs. previous 25 cents; Symington-Gould announced 25 cents on common compared with previous ten cents.

Cleat Peabody voted 25 cents on new common.

SHAW WIRES GOOD CHEER: CONGRESS NEEDS HANGING

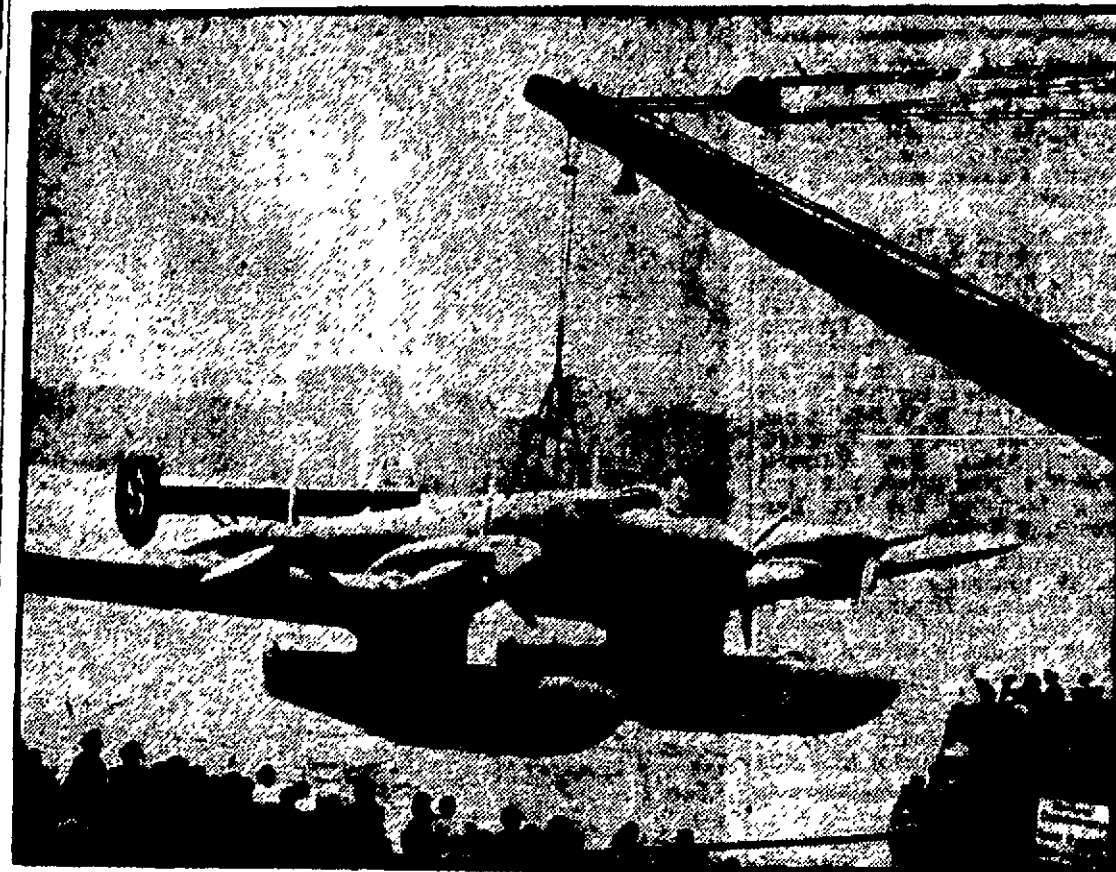

New York, June 25 (AP)—With a message of encouragement from George Bernard Shaw, the employees of the WPA federal art projects stuck to their protest today against the proposed dismissal of 2,813 of them. In the van of the protest were seven women and two men. The bitter-enders of 17 who went on a hunger strike in the Federal Theater of Music, determined to go without eating until slips of dismissal were rescinded. The missing eight had collapsed since the strike started at 6 p. m. Monday and had been taken to hospitals or sent home.

Shaw's message, announced by Barry Hyman, publicity chairman of the five-artists coordinating committee of the city projects, said, referring to the notices of dismissal to actors, musicians, artists, writers and archivists in the general WPA curtailment: "Of course, the first thing they curtail is American culture. Congress needs drastic lynching. Those who vote for barbarism should perish by it."

The Irish dramatist recently consented to production of his plays by the theater project.

For a generation the world belonged to the reporters, but lately the columnists and paragraphers have a chance.

The show will be staged just as any large New York city shop would stage a fashion show. The girls will show the outfits as they walk to the reviewing stand to the accompaniment of incidental music. The various creations to be shown Sunday are identical reproductions of costumes by Molyneux, Heim and Schiaparelli. The bathing outfits were seen this past season on the Riviera and in Cannes, popular European resorts. The play clothes are the most recent of those inspired by Hollywood designers, who got their ideas from Mexico and California.

Braddock Will Live at Callicoon

Newark, N. J., June 26, (AP)—Ex-heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock, "feeling fine" after his losing fight with Joe Louis in Chicago, conferred with his attorney yesterday to clean up some legal matters before going on a vacation with his family.

Braddock said he was in perfect physical condition and suffered no ill effects from the battle in which he lost his title.

His attorney, Samuel B. Gould, said one of the subjects discussed was that of the title to the home Braddock has purchased in North Bergen. The house will be ready for occupancy, Gould said, when the Braddock family returns from its vacation at Callicoon, N. Y., in the Catskills.

The ex-champion's three children have been at the mountain retreat since Braddock began training for Louis. He and his wife were to leave later today.

Have Issued 30 Firework Permits

City Clerk E. J. Dempsey said this morning that he had issued 30 permits to dealers in the city to sell fireworks this year. Those who have already paid the fee will have the permit mailed to them; but those who have not paid the fee must call at the city clerk's office and pay it when they will receive the permit. June 30 is the last day when permits may be obtained.

More Than 3 Million Have Poor Vision, Report

Rochester, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The American Academy of Optometry planned today to speed up the reading of school children by correction of faulty eyesight.

Here for its annual convention, the academy heard its chairman, Dr. Richard M. Hall, of Cleveland, Ohio, declare that more than two million American children suffered from "reading disabilities."

Dr. Hall also discussed so-called contact lenses, invisible eyeglasses which sit directly under the eye-lid.

"Recent popular publicity on these glasses have not given the whole picture," he said. "As a matter of fact the eye must be partially anesthetized, by means of a local anesthetic, and they give a lot of trouble."

Mandy had been given leave to attend her sister's wedding, and on her return entertained her employer with a full account of the proceedings. After listening to a glowing description of the gowns, the wedding breakfast and the guests, Mandy's employer said:

Employer—You haven't told me anything about the bridegroom, Mandy. What is he like?

Mandy—Why, ma'am, dad man never did show up.

I Will Succeed

If you will keep your faith in me, Though life be like a stormy sea, And difficult my task may be—

I will succeed!

If you will look with smiling eyes, Let days be dark with lowering skies, And nights be fraught with weary sighs—

I will succeed!

If you will speak a word of cheer, Though harassed oft by doubt and fear,

An ugly failure hover near—

I will succeed! !

Kingston—Double features. "It Happened Out West," a real thriller with Paul Kelly rescuing Judith Allen from the hands of swindlers who try to buy her ranch after silver is found on it, and restoring her love for him. "Turn Off the Moon," a comedy cinema featuring Charlie Ruggles and Eleanor Whitney. Also preview of "The Go Getter," starring George Brent and Anita Louise.

Broadway—"Angel's Holiday," featuring Jane Withers, popular juvenile star, in a story of a publicity stunt that goes sour. Angel tips off a newspaper reporter that the disappearance of a movie actress is a gag. It turns out that she is really kidnapped by a mob and the experience involves the reporter and little Jane, who finally rights things. Also Paul Yocan's dance revue on the stage, featuring Kingston's own talented juveniles. Preview of "This Is My Affair," with Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck.

Orpheum—"A Doctor's Diary," the story of science's war against infantile paralysis, taking the public behind the scenes in a large metropolitan hospital. John Trent, makes his first appearance in a leading role, with Helen Burgess his leading lady. "Trouble in Morocco," is the other feature, a story of the romantic French Foreign Legion, and two rival newspaper correspondents, a man and woman, on the trail of a gun-running yarn in Morocco. Jack Holt and Mae Clark are the stars of the picture which is climaxed by a spectacular battle on the desert with both of them in the thick of it.

HOLLYWOOD—The worst feature of the film "Parnell" will be its strongest box-office asset.

Clark Gable plays the Irish statesman. Once you get accustomed to Ohio's Gable in the role, you may follow through with him. But the going is made more difficult by the liberal sprinkling of authentic Irish and British players in supporting roles.

Clark Gable's portend by the painstaking atmospheric exactitude displayed throughout.

John M. Stahl worked mightily on direction, and the result is an above average, less-than-epic film. Myrna Loy, as the woman whose love scandalizes Parnell's fight for Irish home rule to defeat, will help the box-office too. Miss Loy, incidentally, was not the only woman who cried at the preview.

Feud Rumors Baseless

Every time Ginger Rogers has made a picture lately with another ranking woman in the cast there have been stories of feuding. . . . First it was Harriet Hilliard. . . . then Harriet Hector. . . . Actually there was nothing to it in either case. . . . And now that she's in "Stage Door" with Hepburn, you'll hear those stories again. . . . For your information, Ginger and Katie are pals.

It's a wise movie mamma who keeps hands off daughter's personal and professional career. . . . That makes Martha Raye's mamma a wise one. . . . Upset at first when Martha married Buddy Westmore, she finally gave blessings. . . . Last time a mother got upset that way was when Loretta Young's tried to annul the Young-Grant Withers ties. . . . In that case Time and Tide fixed everything. . . .

Pat On The Back

Walking on the theater foyer set for "This Way, Please," Robert Florey found it decorated with posters for two Paramount pictures. Before shooting began, however, these posters had been replaced by displays on two other Paramount pictures: "King of Gamblers" and "Mountain Music." Both the latter, according to the poster credits, were directed by Robert Florey. . . .

Broadway—"This Is My Affair" shows the nation's stability threatened by a series of sensational bank robberies in the middle west at the turn of the century. Robert Taylor, the star, is instructed by President McKinley to disorganize himself in the navy and crack down the criminals. Taylor joins the gang to get his information and is arrested and faces the prospect of the gallows when the only man who can clear his name is

Cronin Thinks Sox Better Since Rick Ferrell Left

(By The Associated Press)

Rick Ferrell will just love this, but he'll have to blame it on Joe Cronin.

It seems (to Cronin) that the sudden surge of his Red Sox—eight wins in nine starts—dates from the trade that sent Ferrell to Washington, and that a large part of the recent success is due to the fact that Ferrell's successors at bat are getting more stuff from the Boston pitchers.

How Joe has figured it out is a mystery. In eight years up there, Rick has generally been regarded as somewhat better than a green hand among the big-time mask-and-pad boys. Yet Joe claims that the erudite Moe Berg, who was never good enough to take Ferrell's job, or Gene Desautels, fresh up from the minors, are bringing the business out of the throwers in better style.

It's that, and balance. Joe said today, that has shot the Sox into the first division. The way Cronin tells it, those gold "flops" of 1936 have as much balance now as a set of chorus girls.

"And I think," he added, "that balance ought to keep us going on high. We aren't thinking in terms of pennant yet, but you can bet we are going to try to get as high as we can."

Doc McNair's great job at second base and the return of Phil Cramer to make a "great" outfield are two of the larger factors that have Joe wearing the rose-colored glasses. Whatever it is—and the recent species of timely hitting can't be overlooked, as well as an effective injection of nine-inning ability in the salary arms of the pitchers—those Sox are the hottest outfit in the American League at the moment.

After topping the White Sox in four straight and the Indians in two out of three, they've just wound up taking two in a row from the Tigers, whitewashing the Detroit 9-0 yesterday behind the rejuvenated elbowing of Lefty Grove, now boasting a winning streak of three.

Since the St. Louis Browns six runs in three innings, came from behind to club out a 9-6 win, this defeat for the Tigers boosted the world champions' league lead to three full games, and left the third-place White Sox only one game back of Detroit.

The White Sox, like every other club in the loop, had a lot of fun with the weak awful Athletics and posted a 7-2 triumph.

Chicago's Gabe retained their one-game National League lead by banging out four hits for as many runs in an eighth-inning spurge, to whip the Giants 10-5 in the "rubber" game of their series.

The Cardinals bunched all their run-making into three big innings and trampled the Brooklyn Dodgers 13-3, thereby boosting their second-place margin over the Giants to a full game.

Lou Fette, the new "old dependable" of the Bees, stopped the Pirates 9-6, ending Boston's 11-game losing streak, and the Cincinnati Reds took the Phillies' sixth-place standing by whipping the Quaker City clubbers 6-4, with the aid of Lefty Lee Grissom's one-inning rescue hurling.

Joe Cronin, Red Sox—His homer and triple sent in four runs, leading way to 9-0 defeat of Detroit.

Lee Grissom, Reds—Pitched hitless ball in one-inning relief trick to save 6-4 win over Phillies.

Bill Dickey, Yankees—Hit homer and two singles, driving in four runs in whipping Browns 9-6.

Rip Radcliff, White Sox—Hit double and two singles, and scored three runs in 7-2 win over Athletics.

Lou Fette, Bees—Stopped Pirates with effective pitching and drove in two runs for 9-6 victory.

Pacific Coast
Los Angeles, June 25 (AP)—The experts gathered agreed today athletes of the Pacific Coast Conference should wallop their Big Ten guests in tomorrow's dual track and field meet.

The experts' predictions seemed well founded. The lads from the coast scored 174 points, led by Dean Cromwell's champion southern California squad, while the Big Ten representatives counted only 88 in the N. C. A. A. meet last week.

Clean sweeps in several events loom tomorrow for each team.

Wimbledon, Eng., June 25 (AP)—Gene Mako of Los Angeles, gained the quarter-final round of the All-England Tennis Championships yesterday, scoring a four-set triumph over S. K. Kuo of the Chinese Davis Cup team, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

Jack Crawford, Australian veteran, won his third round match from Franz Kukuljevic of Yugoslavia, 6-3, 6-2, 10-5.

An industry worth at least $5,000,000 a year is likely in Australia, according to the minister of development, who announced that expert reports indicated the possibility of developing flourishing fax cultivation and fax products industries.

Harvard-Yale Race Today, 6:15

New London, Conn., June 25 (AP)—On a four-mile course laid out through the greatest fleet of pleasure craft to drop anchor in the peaceful Thames since rowing duels were inaugurated 80 years ago, the varsity crews of Harvard and Yale this evening will race the 75th renewal of the oldest athletic rivalry in American college history. The clash of the varsities is scheduled to start at 6:15 p. m.

Bashful Betty 'Gets Tough'—Now She Wins Golf Titles

By FELIX MCKNIGHT

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—Something she lacked for years has come to Betty Jameson—to make her a real champion.

Six years ago when the shy Texan took up golf at the age of 12, she had the power, the swing and the will to learn. She had everything but the essential competitive spirit. Too easy going; too much everybody's friend, they said.

Now she is the women's Trans-Mississippi titleholder—the top of that she has whipped the last "it" in her game.

Now that it has happened, experts are predicting everything for her—women's national title, Curtis cup team, etc. She is capable of it all, now that the "heart of gold" turns to ice when Betty leaves the first tee in tournament play.

Back of the transformation lies a story—the story of a bronzed little San Antonio professional who took a good golfer and worked on her mental attitude.

Tod Menefee of Brackenridge park, San Antonio, turned psychologist on the Betty Jameson case and came up with the latest sensation in women's golf.

Defeats Curtis Cuppers
Results of the experiment? Two successive Texas championships and the Trans-Miss. title. Victories over four U. S. Curtis cuppers in six weeks.

Menefee took Betty in hand two summers ago. He lengthened her iron shots, gave her woods at a slight hook that added distance, taught her one of women's best bunker explosion shots and then shifted over to her mental side.

"It was difficult trying to make over Betty's attitude, for she is, by nature very genial and easy going. I wanted her to retain all of that—except in tournament play. I wanted her to learn that tournament golf is a business where everyone should look out for himself."

BETTY JAMESON—Papa says it costs $100 a month to keep her playing golf.

Betty never enters a tournament match now without receiving a last-minute build-up, or fight talk, from Menefee.

Once the match starts, Betty pulls a wildflower, clamps down on the stem with her teeth, and there the flower dangles. She plays with almost casual deliberation and is cool at every shot. The shortest putt gets her keepest concentration.

She Got in Dad's Way
Betty's golf start was more or less accidental. She was following her father, A. M. Jameson, around a Dallas course more than six years ago when he suddenly ordered her home—complaining that she was in the way. She continued to get in Dad's way. Finally he bought her some clubs.

Six months later she brought home the Texas municipal championship trophy. In 1934 she won the Southern amateur. A lean year followed. In 1936 she started her drive with Menefee—winning the Texas title from Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, then champion of old Mexico.

This summer she started with a smashing 10-and-8 victory over Mrs. Frank Goldswarte, Curtis cupper from North Worth, in the finals of the women's state championship.

Then came the Trans-Miss. at San Antonio. She clipped, in succession, Phyllis Buchanan of Denver, former Trans-Miss. champion; Mrs. Opal Hill of Kansas City, four times Trans champion and veteran Curtis cup player; Marion Milley, defending her Trans title for the third straight year, and finally, Minneapolis' hard-working redhead, Patty Berg, her fourth Curtis cup victim, in the finals.

Bashful Betty, the gallery darling, has found her fighting heart—and has it set on a Curtis cup team berth.

Don Budge Creates Stir at Wimbledon

Wimbledon, June 25 (AP)—Slack-jawed Don Budge continues to kick up more dust on Wimbledon's tennis courts than any foreigner has since Bill Tilden's lumber legs began to fade a decade ago.

The Californian, successor to Tilden and Maurice McLoughlin as an American sensation here, slammed his way through a straight set victory over Christian Boususs, of France, yesterday, and set such a pace in entering the fourth round of the Wimbledon championship that the bookmakers quit taking bets on him.

Budge beat Boususs, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany, the only player conceded much of a chance to head off Budge, had a hard time beating Jiro Yamagishi, of Japan, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Budge's three American Davis Cup team champions, Bryan M. (Bilby) Grant, of Atlanta, Frankie Parker, of Milwaukee, and Gene Mako, of Los Angeles, also advanced to the fourth round.

Parker made his center court debut today against Daniel Prenn, the self-exiled German Jew Budge played Ladislav Hecht, of Czechoslovakia, one of the continent's better players, and Grant met A. C. Steadman, of New Zealand, whose straight set victory over Marcel Bernard of France caused a mild sensation yesterday.

Other favorites who advanced in yesterday's play were Heinrich Henkel, second ranking German, Vivian McGrath and Jack Crawford, of Australia, and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, of England.

The women returned to action today in the singles with Katherine Winthrop of Boston meeting England's Kay Stammers in one of the feature matches. Helen Jacobs, California's defending champion, was idle, being one round ahead of the field.

Cornell-Rescue at Napanoch Sunday

Manager Jimmy Woods will take his Cornell-Rescue softballers to Napanoch Sunday for a game with the prison team at 2:30. The Kingston tossers will leave Cornell Fire Station at 12:30 p. m. sharp. Alderman Al Vogel, Tibor Tomschaw, Snyder and "Coke" Costello will be ready for C & R mound duty.

Max Must Box Braddock First

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—Producer Mike Jacobs pulled the curtain on another act of his heavyweight show today and out on the stage—badge, nightstick and all—walked Officer James J. Braddock, late heavyweight champion of the world.

Of course, Impresario Jacobs may revise the skit on short notice, equally brief cablegram or a long-distance telephone call. But he insisted that if Max Schmeling, boxer, to get a crack at the new titleholder, Joe Louis, the German first will have to meet Braddock, "policeman" to the title he lost this week to the Brown Bomber.

This was the latest of a series of developments which broke out like a rash from the moment that Louis' right hand tipped Braddock over at Comiskey Park Tuesday night. Others were (1) that Louis has an offer of 42½ per cent of the gate receipts, with a $75,000 guarantee, to meet Jack (Canary) Doyle or Len Harvey in Wembley Stadium, London, next August, and (2) Braddock and Max Baer, the playboy ex-heavyweight champion, will fight in August, either here or in Los Angeles.

Joe's Workouts Were Only a Show

Detroit, June 25 (AP)—Joe Louis, the new heavyweight champion of the world, told his mother today that his public training for the titular fight was "just a show" and that his real preparation went on behind the scenes.

The Bomber told his story early this morning after his mother, Mrs. Lily Barrow Brooks, had served a bountiful chicken dinner for him with the help of a squad of women from her church circle.

"I was afraid when I heard those stories from your training camp," his mother said as she awaited Joe's story of his puzzling and unimpressive showing before his bout with Jim Braddock.

"Shouldn't believe those things, mum," Joe said, "the show that was just a show. I didn't want to hurt my hands, so I didn't fight much in camp. I did all my work on the road in the morning."

"Every morning on the road I practiced going backward," he said. "Like Tunney did. And I shadow boxed, learning to keep my hands up there. That was the most important thing. What happened at camp was just a show."

Battle of Champions Tonight At the Municipal Auditorium

The battle of the champions—Frankie Mirable and Willie Smith—will go on at the municipal auditorium, tonight, featuring the card of bouts run by the mayor's industrial committee under the auspices of the Adirondack A.A.U.

Mirable, Albany lightweight, is the champion of the Adirondack A. A. U. Smith won the international championship by knocking out the Italian champ in the Yankee Stadium earlier this month.

The Smith-Mirable bout replaces the heavyweight brawl between Sergeant Perry, of West Point, and Johnny Bleskie, Scotia Polish Pounder. Bleskie had to call off his date on account of illness.

With the two champs in the main attraction, a record house is expected tonight. Besides the big headline attraction, there are six other bouts all of which promise plenty of action.

The entire card:
Main Bout
Willie Smith, New York, vs. Frankie Mirable, Albany, lightweight, five rounds.

Semi-Final
Charlie Forezzi, Albany, vs. Danny Romano, Beacon, featherweights, five rounds.

Specials
Buddy Emerson, St. Remy, vs. New York—Mike Bellone, 130 New York, recognized in New York as featherweight champion knocked out Jimmy McLeod, 13½, Tacoma, Wash., (7).

Pittsburgh—Al Garner, 160 New Haven, Conn., outpointed Red Bruce, 176, Pittsburgh, (7).

New York—Harry Balsam, 162, New York, (8).

New York—Ralph (Indian) Hurtado, 133½, Panama, outpointed Lou Trowbridge, 130 Miami, Fla., (8).

DON'T LET A BLOW-OUT SPOIL IT FOR YOU

MAKE YOUR HOLIDAY MOTORING SAFE! RIDE ON SILVERTOWNS

Before you start out on your holiday outing, check your tires! Blistering summer heat and long hard drives at today's high speeds are tough on tires. And with heavy, dangerous holiday traffic ahead, don't take the chance of having a blow-out!

So play safe, put real blow-out protection between your car and the road. Let us equip your car with Goodrich Safety Silvertowns. They're the only tires in the world that give you the extra protection of the Life-Saver Golden Ply.

This amazing invention is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific heat generated inside all tires at today's high speeds. It keeps rubber and fabric from separating—keeps blisters from forming. And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the great unseen cause of high-speed blow-outs. No wonder hundreds of local motorists are switching to Silvertowns for real protection against dangerous high-speed blow-outs.

Keep off the accident list. Drive now and let us put these life-saving Silvertowns on your car. They cost even less than other super-quality tires.

READY FOR NEW DEVELOPMENTS

A mobile machine-gun unit stationed on the road to the Republic Steel plant in Warren, Ohio, is ready for anything. While the "sympathy strike," called to protest the presence of the Military, was abandoned, the new mass meeting called by the C. I. O. might mean a fresh outbreak.

Dynamite Blasts Mark Return

had made a final, unsuccessful effort to settle the strike with a proposed "man-to-man" discussion around a conference table. "We are very sorry," said terse, identical statements of the Republic Steel Corporation and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. "We cannot, in justice to our employes, sign a contract with CIO." This was accepted generally as marking the definite collapse of the board's four-day efforts to find a common ground for mediation of the costly strike. The board members themselves were frankly disheartened.

Martial Law Lifted

As Ohio militiamen were getting their new orders, martial law was being lifted on another tense strike front—Johnstown, Pa., where state police, under orders from Governor Earle, forced the closing of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation's Cambria Works last Sunday.

Sheriff Michael Boyle of Johnstown, expected "some 7,000" miners from the state's soft coal fields to pour into the city to bolster picket lines around the Cambria Works. Union leaders said between 20,000 and 30,000 marchers were expected.

Governor Davey's new militia orders were hardly an hour old before dynamite blasts echoed down the strike front at Warren, Ohio, where Republic Steel's plant has been operating throughout the strike.

One explosion occurred near the gates of Republic's open hearth, and police arrested a man on suspicion. The other was directed at a car in which National Guardsmen were riding. No one was hurt. The soldiers fired at the car from which the bomb had been thrown, but it disappeared into the night.

Guardsmen at Warren had reported earlier that they had uncovered caches of clubs and iron pipe—frequent weapons of strike violence—within 100 yards of the Republic's plant. Under a court order, all CIO pickets at Warren were disbanded two days ago.

Perverved Humor Displayed Today

A shining example of a person with a distorted sense of humor was revealed today when a woman, who claimed she was the aunt of a young woman, asked to have inserted in The Freeman an account of the sudden death of her niece. The one who did the telephoning was evidently well acquainted with the members of the family, for she readily gave the names of the other members of the family.

The woman who gave this false information is subject to arrest and a long jail sentence, or possibly commitment to some state institution for mental defectives. As is the custom in all newspaper offices as soon as the item was received over the telephone it was immediately checked, and the young woman reported dead was found to be very much alive. She said that this morning, she, also, had received two mysterious telephone calls.

No reason is known for the woman giving out the false information.

Three More Held For Law Violation

After a considerable period of quietness federal business is suddenly "picking up" at the office of U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly and there have been several cases during the past week or so.

Thursday three more men were held at the Ulster county jail, awaiting arraignment before the commissioner on charges of violation of the Internal Revenue law. They were Clarence E. Metcalfe, 68, of Ghent, Frank Brash, 26, of Claverack, and Fred Jackson, 35, of Hollowville. The men were taken into custody by investigators Joseph Lagemann and Arthur E. Hatt.

The trio was to be arraigned this afternoon.

Baby Raccoon Is Now in Park Zoo

Game Protector Burt Castle has presented the city zoo in Forsyth Park with a baby raccoon. Several days ago the state conservation department presented the zoo with a baby fawn, which is being fed from a bottle. The raccoon has been placed in a separate cage from the other raccoon in the zoo, and is attracting the attention of all who visit the park. The fawn has not been placed on public view as yet as it is too young and timid.

Ohio's Military To Non-Strikers

I look to you to see that this order is carried out with fidelity, calmness, impartiality and firmness. Thus, there is placed in your charge the most solemn responsibility that has been given to any public official in these troublous times.

"We will support you with all the power and resources of the state government."

The governor issued his instructions only after receiving word from executives of the steel companies that the mediation board's negotiations were at an end.

The adjutant general transmitted the orders to Major General Gilson D. Light, in charge of military operations at Youngstown.

Miss Beatrice Burgevin Has Evening Wedding

Miss Mabel Beatrice Burgevin, daughter of Mrs. George Burgevin of Johnston avenue, was married at 6:30 last evening at Holy Cross Church, to Windsor Belmont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Belmont of Merion, Pa.

The Rev. William Alfred Grier, pastor of Holy Cross Church performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Richard W. Burgevin of Boston, was wearing a gown of ivory satin with a train. Her net veil, edged with lace, was that worn by the groom's mother at her wedding. She carried a bridal bouquet.

Miss Berthold Knauth, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue marquisette gown with a blue veil with a wreath of white roses and delphinium. Delphinium and tallisman roses made up the bouquet.

Miss Mary Cunningham and Miss Ruth Abernethy as bridesmaids, wore peach organdie dresses and peach veils with wreaths of tallisman roses and delphinium. Their bouquets were of the same flowers.

The Misses Susan Herzog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herzog, and Katharine Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Butler of Hingham, were the flower girls. They were dressed in blue organdie and carried old fashioned bouquets of mixed flowers.

Mr. James Van Allen Bickford of Norfolk, Va., was the best man. The ushers included two brothers of the bride, the Messrs. John and Edwin Burgevin; William S. Belfield of Gordonsville, Va., a brother of the groom; Thomas Fisher, of Merion, Pa.; Hugh Butler and David B. Fauce of New York.

The bride's mother was given in marriage by her brother, Richard W. Burgevin. The bride was wearing a gown of ivory satin with a train. Her net veil, edged with lace, was that worn by the groom's mother at her wedding. She carried a bridal bouquet.

Miss Gertrude Hanley Wed To Charles Rice

Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, in St. Mary's Church, Miss Gertrude Catherine Hanley, daughter of Mrs. A. Hanley, of 328 Broadway, became the bride of Charles Augustus Rice, of 62 Summer street, this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James P. Moore. Theodore Riccobono furnished the wedding music. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Richard W. Burgevin. The bride was wearing a gown of ivory satin with a train. Her net veil, edged with lace, was that worn by the groom's mother at her wedding. She carried a bridal bouquet.

Miss Berthold Knauth, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue marquisette gown with a blue veil with a wreath of white roses and delphinium. Delphinium and tallisman roses made up the bouquet.

Miss Ruth E. Nickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Nickerson, of Auburn street, was granted the degree of Master of Arts at the 69th annual commencement of Cornell University held last Monday. After graduating from Kingston High School and New Paltz Normal, Miss Nickerson studied at the New York State College for Teachers. She received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from that college in 1936 and was awarded the Edward A. Sheldon Scholarship for a year of graduate study at Cornell University.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clair, of 20 Henry street, entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Clair's birthday.

LEARN SECRETS OF CHARM

You step into a roomful of people. Do their eyes light up, kindled by your radiant charm? Or does your entrance pass unnoticed?

The art of making a vivid impression, glowing with charm and personality, is not a gift to the favored few. It's something any girl can learn—by rule—just as she learns to bake a cake.

Charm has many ingredients—melodious voice, exquisite personal grooming, clothes that bring out your most attractive features, gracious manners. All these you can acquire with a few moments of effort each day.

For instance, daily practice will give warmth and richness to a shrill rasping voice, or a dull colorless one. An exercise to develop mellow tones, often used by actresses and singers, is to say the vowel sounds preceded by b, p and m, this way—bah, bay, bee, by, boe, boo. Then try so say the vowel sounds as melodiously as you can after bl, pl and sl.

Our new 40-page booklet, SECRETS OF A WINNING PERSONALITY, gives definite easy-to-follow lessons for developing hidden possibilities and overcoming defects. Learn, too, the art of making contacts, saying the right thing, making and keeping engagements. How to achieve your goal.

Send 15c for our booklet, SECRETS OF A WINNING PERSONALITY, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

MT. MARION
Mt. Marion, June 24.—Mr. and Mrs. George Sanford of New Paltz were callers in Mt. Marion Wednesday evening.

Alfred Munster, Jr., of the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, Cal., is visiting his mother in Mt. Marion.

Mrs. Nelson Snyder spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. William Warner.

Jeanne Bogert had her tonsils removed Saturday by Dr. Frank Johnston in the Kingston Hospital. Jeanne is home again now and feeling much better.

Mrs. George Gillson was tendered a surprise party by some of her friends on Friday evening in honor of her birthday. Mrs. John Dederick presented Mrs. Gillson with a beautifully decorated birthday cake which was admired and appreciated by all. Mrs. Gillson's friends left wishing her many more happy birthdays.

The Willing Workers' Sunday School class held a business meeting on Thursday evening in the church hall followed by a surprise shower for Miss Sylvia Plass, one of the members. Officers for the coming year were elected and are as follows: President, Mrs. David Scheff; vice-president, Mrs. Abraham Bogert; secretary, Mrs. William Warner; treasurer, Miss Elsie Werner; chairman of the social committee, Mrs. John Plass. It was decided to hold the annual picnic during full moon in July in Dederick's grove.

Bert Felton and Mrs. Vernon Felton were appointed to take charge of refreshments from Ruby and Mrs. John Dederick and Mrs. George Gillson in Mt. Marion.

Mrs. John Dederick, a teacher, read a letter from Mrs. William Warner thanking the class for flowers and sunshine box during her recent illness. The busting was then adjourned. While Mrs. Dederick played the wedding march a Grand March was started led by Miss Plass and her sons, Victor and William. As the march approached the platform the curtains were drawn back revealing a table piled with daintily wrapped gifts and a supper table in the center of which was a beautiful wedding cake surmounted by a bride and groom. Blue decorations and pink roses decorated the rest of the table. Miss Plass received many beautiful and useful gifts and she and Mr. Haslam were toasted and congratulated.

Mt. Marion, June 25.—On Sunday evening, June 20, the Mt. Marion School held its graduation exercises in the Flatbush Reformed Church before a large audience. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, thanks to Mrs. Werner and Mrs. Gillson.

Alice Tobias first called a roll of the class and gave the address of welcome. Henry Dussol, master of ceremonies then took charge of the proceedings and introduced Marlon Werner, who gave the history of the class. Jean Myer recited the school creed. Nan Gillson read the class will and gave the class prophesy presenting each member with an amusing favor with the prophesy.

The address of the evening was given by the Rev. Arthur Oudemool of the Old Dutch Church in Kingston. Mr. Oudemool took for his topic, "Let No Man Despise Thy Youth" and urged the young people to follow the rules laid down for Timothy by Paul. At the conclusion of Mr. Oudemool's splendid address, the diplomas were presented to the graduates by the trustee, William Werner. A prize of money, donated by Mr. Hill, was presented to Alice Tobias for having received the two highest marks in the school, 100 per cent in Arithmetic and 97 per cent in Spelling. The school then terminated the exercises by singing "Good-bye Classmates."

Following is a list of the graduates: Jean Myer, Alice Tobias, Lucene Dussol, Anna Gillson, Lucene Dussol, Raymond Lang, Richard Till, Marlon Werner, Guy Huppen Bauer, William Werner, Jr.

Following are honor students among those graduating from the Mt. Marion School. The honor roll consists of those students who have obtained an average of 85 percent or over in their regular examinations: Alice Tobias, Henry Dussol, Anna Gillson and Jean Myer.

The highest marks in each subject were as follows: Arithmetic, Alice Tobias, 100 per cent; Spelling, Alice Tobias, 97 per cent; History, Anna Gillson, 88 per cent; Silent Reading, Anna Gillson, 89 per cent; English, Henry Dussol, 84 per cent; Writing, Henry Dussol, 90 per cent; Geography, Richard Till, 86 per cent.

CHAUTAUQUA RECEIVERSHIP KILLED BY NEW FUNDS

Buffalo, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Chautauqua Institute, lake-side American tradition and sounding board of presidents, moved today from the shadow of a voluntary receivership.

Federal Judge R. Knight turned the 63-year-old cultural institution's financial affairs back to the board of directors when Dr. Arthur E. Bestor, president, reported working capital in the bank.

Directors asked the receivership in 1934 when the resort's program of educational entertainment piled up a $785,000 debt. S. M. Hazlett of Pittsburgh, representing a reorganization corporation, reported today that $285,000 of unsecured obligations had been liquidated, a $500,000 bond issue reduced by $286,000 and sufficient pledges received to retire the remainder.

Let's split open a drop of Crude Oil and see what makes good gasoline

Every drop of crude contains many different combinations of hydrogen and carbon. These hydro-carbons in the refining process are separated into different groups.

One group of hydro-carbons is very volatile and produces quick starting. Another is somewhat less volatile and produces acceleration; still another group of "heavier" hydro-carbons produces the power which gives long mileage. By the Sun Oil process of selecting and reassembling these various groups, all groups are given knockless characteristics.

So in making our gasoline today, the crude is split up, the desirable parts assembled by Sunoco's precision control and the result is an unusually high-quality motor fuel... Blue Sunoco.

QUICK STARTING

Quick starting depends upon the presence in a motor fuel of a group of very "light" liquids. These, as they are found in unfinished gasolines, are seldom in the proper proportions and usually contain gaseous and too volatile fractions which cause power loss and vapor lock.

The precision-controlled Blue Sunoco refining process retains only the desirable, easily ignited liquids in exactly the proper proportions.

FAST ACCELERATION

Blue Sunoco gives brilliant acceleration because it contains exactly the right amount of "medium light" liquids selected from the many hydro-carbons which compose crude oil.

The precision control—used in manufacturing Blue Sunoco—insures its uniformity and results in a motor fuel that is outstanding for its lightning-like, high-test action.

KNOCKLESS POWER

When your motor knocks it is losing power.

Blue Sunoco's process for the perfect control of refining temperatures and pressures achieves a high knockless rating by taking apart those hydro-carbons which ordinarily cause knocking, and reconstructing them so that more uniform power may be delivered throughout the entire piston stroke.

LONG MILEAGE

Blue Sunoco's long mileage is due in the first place to its knockless power and in the second place to the precision of its manufacturing process which takes apart and rebuilds the "heavy" particles so that they actually deliver in a gasoline engine more usable energy—more horse power. This plus power is responsible for Blue Sunoco's long mileage.

And since Blue Sunoco sells at regular gas price, it gives the utmost in economical performance.

Keep your motor young...with Sunoco.
